DIVISION OF CHEMISTRY.

The number of outside laboratories was diminished by three during the past fiscal year, samples heretofore tested at St. Cloud, Fla., and Austin, Tex., being sent to the New Orleans laboratory, and those from Norfolk, Nebr., being tested at Fort Scott, Kans.

As the testing of sugar for bounty purposes ceased with the passage of the recent tariff act (August 28, 1894), all laboratories used solely for sugar work have been discontinued, resulting in the closing of all the outside laboratories, except the one located at San Francisco, Cal., which is chiefly occupied in the testing of fortified sweet wines.

The following table shows the number of samples of sugar tested and the number of tests made in the different laboratories:

The number of samples of material suspected of being oleomargarine and submitted to this office for decision was greater during the past fiscal year than in any previous year since the passage of the act, except the first year of its enforcement.

Expert testimony in regard to samples was rendered in court in 12 cases during the year.

ADULTERATION OF FOOD AND DRUGS IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The act of October 12, 1888, "to prevent the manufacture or sale of adulterated food or drugs in the District of Columbia" imposes upon this office the duty of analyzing all samples submitted for decision as to their character. No provision has been made, since the first year of its passage, for increasing the force or equipment of this division, in connection with the execution of the law, and heretofore no such increase has been necessary, as no effort has been made to enforce it, consequently few samples have been presented. In consequence of a more active supervision of the milk supply in Washington by the local health authorities, however, a number of samples of milk were presented to this office during August and September, 1893, for decisions as to their adulteration under the provisions of this law. As the time required for the analysis of these samples and for the rendering of expert testimony thereon in court threatened to interfere seriously with the regular work of the division, revised regulations were issued (series 7, No. 15, revised) providing for the analysis of all such samples by the chemist of the health office of the District of Columbia, under the control and supervision of this office.

Reports were accordingly received from this officer from September, 1893, up to the close of the fiscal year, of the analysis of 17 samples—15 of milk, 1 of butter, and 1 of granulated sugar—all of which were decided to be adulterated and so certified to the district attorney for the District of Columbia. I would suggest, in this connection, that Congress be asked to either provide the facilities necessary for the analysis of all samples in the laboratory of this office, or to so amend the law as to relieve me entirely from any connection with its execution.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

JOS. S. MILLER, Commissioner.

Hon. J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary of the Treasury.

REPORT OF THE CHIEF OF THE BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF ENGRAVING AND PRINTING,
October 1, 1894.

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following report on the operations of this Bureau during the fiscal year 1894:

It has been my purpose in the management of this establishment to have the work on the notes and other securities executed in the best possible manner and at the lowest cost. It is gratifying to report that, while the work has been improved in many material points of quality during the year, it has been executed at a less rate of cost to the Government than ever before in the history of the Bureau. The tables submitted herewith show that there were completed and delivered during the year 16,780,710 sheets of United States notes, Treasury notes, gold and silver certificates, bonds, and national bank notes, 37,097,706 sheets of internal-revenue stamps, 201,000 sheets of customs stamps, and 1,437,545 sheets of drafts, checks, certificates, etc., besides miscellaneous work for the various departments of the Government costing $18,468.88. The aggregate number of sheets delivered during the year was 55,516,961. The highest delivery in any one year during a period of sixteen years prior to this, the longest period for which there is available record, was 52,508,438 sheets in 1892, which is exceeded by 3,008,523 sheets in the year 1894. The aggregate cost of the work delivered in 1892 was $1,316,585.89, while the aggregate cost of that delivered in 1894 was $1,317,389.61. The cost per 1,000 sheets in 1894, although all the plate printing was done on hand presses, was $23.73. This is the lowest rate per 1,000 sheets that the work of the Bureau has cost during a period of sixteen years, the next lowest being $23.79 per 1,000 in 1889, when a large percentage of the plate printing was done on steam-power presses.

Artistic skill applicable to the production of bank notes, bonds, etc., has not advanced with time. Bank notes prepared twenty-five years ago are as finely engraved as those of to-day. The bank notes produced by this Bureau and by the bank-note companies of the country appear to have reached the highest standard of engraving and printing, but the designs, as a rule, are weak and meaningless. The conventional design for bank notes which has been used for many years appears to be wholly lacking in artistic merit, consisting as it does of a patchwork of engraving, including the portrait, the title, and the lathe-work counters, having no connection with each other, and a vast improvement can be made in designing the future issues of the Government. I consider the artistic beauty of a design for a bank note to be as essential to protection against counterfeiting as the manner in which either the engraving or printing is executed. In fact they must all be of the highest standard of excellence to afford perfect protection. To attain this standard of excellence I have secured the services of some of the best engravers and printers, and have received aid from some of the most talented artists in the country in preparing designs for a new issue of silver certificates, and the result, in my opinion, will be not only a creditable work from an artistic standpoint, but a series of notes which will be beyond the skill of counterfeiters to imitate in a way to be at all dangerous to commerce. Such talent commands a high price, and it is an item of expenditure which should have consideration in the making of appropriations for this Bureau.

The application of the civil-service regulations to this Bureau, so far as it relates to the lower grades of female employes, is productive of some good. It eliminates the Bureau as the one branch of the public service into which the uneducated class might enter through the aid of influential public men. This Bureau was the great receptacle of this class of applicants prior to the classification of its employes. All appointments of female operatives are made in the first place to the lowest grade, that of printer's assistant, from which they are promoted to the higher grades. It is important, therefore, that appointments to the position named should be from the most intelligent class of applicants. The operations of this Bureau are intricate and require not only physical ability, but intelligence in its employes. Where millions of sheets of governmental securities, representing enormous values, are handled each year, much confusion, delay, and possible loss may occur through the stupidity or ignorance of the employes. The classification of the service of this Bureau has to a great extent relieved it from the condition above indicated, which, I am informed, existed some years ago, but it has not given complete relief, and will not until discretion is given to the Secretary of the Treasury and to the Chief of this Bureau to secure the suspension of the civil-service rules at times when the eligible list does not furnish the kind of employes needed. It is obvious that, where but one examination is held during a year and many appointments become necessary during that period, the list of eligibles becomes very much reduced in rating and can not furnish desirable operatives for this Bureau. This was the case during the months of August and September, 1893, when an amount of national currency largely in excess of the usual requirements was needed within a very short time. At such times, when the demands upon the Bureau are excessive and imperative to meet an existing exigency, the service would be subverted if the civil-service rules were suspended for the time being, so that suitable appointments could be made outside of the eligible list. The effect of the general classification of employes in this Bureau is advantageous, unless it should attempt to include skilled workmen, or the superintendents of skilled workmen. The superintendents of engraving, plate printing, binding, machinery, etc., are as essentially skilled in their respective arts as the workmen themselves, and their ability can only be demonstrated by actual service. No competitive examination can develop executive ability, which is also a most important qualification in a superintendent of such work as is done in this Bureau. I therefore hold that to secure efficient service the selection of superintendents of the various branches of this Bureau should remain with the Secretary of the Treasury and the Chief of Bureau.

I can report that excellent discipline prevails in the Bureau. The employes are almost universally attentive to their duties, and, although it has been necessary to work them overtime in several of the branches throughout the better part of the year, they have complied willingly and without complaint. This condition has resulted in the most prompt execution of orders, and I am informed that the work of the year just ended has been brought nearer to a finish than ever before. The reduction in the cost of the work is due to the fact that no employés were kept on the rolls who were not actually needed; to economy in the use of materials and care in purchasing them at the lowest cost; to the reduction of excessive salaries; and to changing the method of printing some of the internal-revenue stamps, all of which has been accomplished without lowering the standard of the work. In fact, it can be fairly claimed that there has been some improvement in every branch of the service. Under the excellent supervision of the recently appointed chief of engraving division the engraving of the dies, rolls, and plates has been, and is being, worked up to the highest state of perfection, and the several designs made by him during the year are admitted to be superior to those formerly prepared. There is also a marked improvement in the plate printing, the manufacture of ink, and in the operation of the machinery.

While not directly pertaining to the work of the fiscal year for which this report is submitted, yet as much of the preliminary work connected with it was done during that year, I feel that it is not improper for me to mention a subject of interest in connection with the work of the Bureau. For many years the only securities of the Government produced outside of this Bureau were the adhesive stamps required by the Post-Office Department which were produced under contract by a private corporation in New York City. Early in the last fiscal year the Postmaster-General advertised for proposals for the manufacture of these stamps. Feeling that the interests of the Government required that all of its securities should be produced in its own establishment and under the immediate direction of its own officers, and that this work could be done by this Bureau at considerably less cost than if done by private parties, with your approval I submitted a proposal to the Postmaster-General for the execution of this work. The rates submitted in this proposal aggregated $22,914.09 less than the lowest responsible bidder, which was the company then executing the work, and $68,882.08 less than the rate at which it was then performing it. Upon showing that the Bureau was amply able to perform this work at the rates submitted, and that there was no legal impediment to its doing so, the Postmaster-General, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury, transferred the work to it, beginning July 1 last. I am glad to be able to state that, despite many delays and embarrassments, the Bureau has met every demand for stamps and has demonstrated its ability to successfully carry out the obligations undertaken with the Post-Office Department. As the estimates of this Bureau for the first year of this contract included the cost of new machinery amounting to something over $40,000, an item of expense connected with this work which will not appear in subsequent years, it is safe to predict an annual saving to the Government of over $50,000.

During the year the work of engraving the plate of the diploma for the World's Columbian Exposition has progressed satisfactorily. The cost of the engraving to date has been $6,447.32, which, as a matter of convenience, has been first paid from the appropriation of this Bureau and subsequently, upon a bill rendered, has been refunded to that appropriation. While, therefore, this amount is included as a part of the expenditures of the Bureau, it constitutes really no part of the cost of the work finished and delivered by it during the year. This diploma, when completed, will be a most beautiful work of art.

The sundry civil act of March 3, 1893, appropriated $25,000 for a new boiler plant for this Bureau which has been expended in the erection of a boiler house and the construction of four water-tube boilers.

I desire to make acknowledgment of the honor conferred by your confidence. This Bureau is now substantially executing all the engraved work used by the Government; it furnishes the stamps (internal revenue, customs, and postage) through the use of which the revenues of the Government are in turn produced, and furnishes all of the paper money, bonds, and other securities issued by the Government; its rolls contain over 1,400 employes who are charged with the handling of these enormous values reaching up to hundreds of millions of dollars. The direction and perfection of a system that will faithfully and satisfactorily execute such work without loss to the Government is a great responsibility, and I fully appreciate the magnitude of your confidence. The policy agreed upon to keep the management of the Bureau entirely between the Secretary of the Treasury and the Chief of Bureau has lightened my responsibility very much, and I feel but little apprehension as to results so long as my actions are controlled by your wise counsel and personal approval.

The following is the financial statement of the year:

Washington, D. C., October 10, 1894.

SIR: I have the honor to submit the annual report of the business of this office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894. The appropriation under which the work of the fiscal year was performed calls for 108 officers and employés at an expense of $139,750. Of this appropriation there was spent $136,710.19, leaving unexpended $3,039.81.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES DIVISION.

This division keeps ledger accounts with all appropriations made by the Congress of the United States for the conduct of the General Government, and also keeps all the personal disbursement and receipt accounts pertaining to the customs, internal revenue, diplomatic, Treasury, judiciary, interior civil, and public debt.

General receipts and expenditures ledgers are kept, running from the foundation of the Government in 1789.

This division furnishes to the proper accounting officers copies of all warrants covering proceeds of Government property, where the same may be necessary in the settlement of accounts, in their respective offices. It also furnishes certificates of balances, advances, and repayments to the offices of the First and Fifth Auditors, for settlements of accounts, and certifies to the First Comptroller, on requisitions for advances, the net indebtedness of disbursing agents, as shown by the ledgers.

The work of compiling the annual volume of receipts and expenditures of the Government for Congress, in pursuance of the standing order of the House of Representatives of December 30, 1791, and section 237 of the Revised Statutes, was performed in this division until February 9, 1894, when, upon the recommendation of the Dockery Commission, by letter of the Honorable Secretary of the Treasury, the work was discontinued. The statistical statements heretofore given in the annual report of the Register are necessarily omitted in consequence of the discontinuance of this work.

LOAN DIVISION.

Briefly stated, upon this division is devolved the performance of work upon coupon and registered bonds, as follows:

I. Upon bonds issued by the United States.

II. Upon bonds issued on account of the District of Columbia.

III. Upon Spanish indemnity certificates—the written evidence of an indebtedness of Spain to certain American citizens.

These duties include the receipt of new bonds prepared by the printer, and the custody of the same until required for use; the issue of bonds upon the warrant of the Secretary of the Treasury, and upon proper evidence of payment of amounts of accepted subscriptions for the stock of a loan; also the redemption of bonds; the record of the cancellation of bonds assigned and forwarded for a transfer of title, and the preparation and issue of new bonds in the names of the assignees; an examination touching the regularity of all assignments of registered bonds and the sufficiency of all papers submitted by the representatives of corporations, of the estates of decedents, and of persons under legal disability, whether located in the United States or in foreign countries, as the evidence of their authority to execute such assignments, as well as the proof of succession where bonds are held in a fiduciary capacity; the opening and keeping of a complete ledger account with each of the 31,179 individual, corporation, and other holders of registered bonds; the preparation of quarterly, semiannual, and annual schedules for the payment of interest by the Treasurer of the United States, showing, in regard to each holder, the amount of such stock owned, the interest due, and the addresses to which checks in payment thereof should be forwarded, involving the preparation for the printer and the proof-reading of over 6,000 large printed pages, comprising over 30,000 separately itemized accounts; filing, arrangement, and custody of the various books, records, bonds, and papers connected with the business of this division; and the correspondence which is necessary for its proper conduct.

During the months of February, March, and the early part of April, 1894, the stock of the 5 per cent loan of 1904, amounting to $50,000,000, was issued. Over three-fifths of the total amount was, in accordance with the requests of the subscribers, in the form of coupon bonds, but before the issue had been completed the holders of such bonds began to return them to the Department at the rate of over a million dollars per month, for conversion into registered bonds.

The following table furnishes, under three principal heads, a classification of the outstanding United States registered bonds on each of the later loans, as shown in connection with the dividends due July 1, August 1, and September 1, 1894; the amounts given are twelve months later than those appearing in the last report.

The  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent funded loan of 1891 has been omitted from the foregoing tables, as the amount outstanding has been reduced to \$557,250 and no longer bears interest. The new 5 per cent loan of 1904 has been added. A large part of the increase in the amounts held by Treasurer of the United States in trust for national banks upon the 4 per cent and Pacific Railroad issues occurred in July and August, 1893. It should be noted that dates in the above tables are not identical with those used in tables A and B, and that the latter tables include both coupon and registered bonds, while the above tables only comprise registered bonds.

An important part of the work arises from the necessity in a great number of cases for assignments of bonds by the representatives of the persons or corporations in whose names they may be inscribed.

As will appear from the foregoing table, over one-third of the total amount of registered bonds outstanding is held by the Treasurer of the United States in trust for national banks. When bonds on deposit with the Treasurer are withdrawn, it is customary for him to assign the bonds to the banks for whose benefit they are held; and when (as is usually the case) they are then sold to other parties, they must be reassigned by some duly authorized representative of the bank. A large portion of the amounts included under the heading "domestic," is held by life, fire insurance, trust and security companies, by national, State, and private banks, by hospitals, institutions of learning, lodges, churches, societies, asylums, corporations, and associations of various forms.

Heretofore, so far as I am aware, no attempt has been made to ascertain the proportionate amount of stock assigned by representatives of the payees, the authority for which was dependent upon such papers as those just enumerated. An examination has been made of the amounts so assigned during a considerable portion of the last fiscal year, from which it appears that of the whole sum transferred, something over 75 per cent was based upon such assignments. If the same per cent prevailed during the rest of the year, the total amount so assigned during the last fiscal year would have been as follows:

Such time as could be spared from other work has been devoted to the preparation of consolidated card indexes of accounts with holders of registered bonds. When completed, it is intended to show the name of every person (whether principal or beneficiary), and of every corporation whose name has been inscribed upon any United States registered bond. Every account upon every loan which refers to the same person is to be brought together upon one card, and all the cards are to be alphabetically arranged in the order used in a dictionary or directory. When this is done, information will be instantaneously available, which can now only be obtained by examining numerous long columns of names scattered through various indexes. At present hundreds, and in some cases thousands, of names are included in one subdivision of the indexes in use. The number of cards prepared during the year was 42,369, the number examined 43,248. On July 1, 1894, the total number of references on the index to different accounts upon ledgers was 170,711.

The annexed table, marked E, gives further details with respect to the work performed.

NOTE, COUPON, CURRENCY, AND FILES DIVISION.

Statements 1 to 19 give in detail an itemized account of the character of the work, an idea of the amount of labor involved, and the condition of the records at the close of the year, the more salient features of which I give in a condensed form and in the order of the arrangement of the tables.

The receipts of gold certificates of deposit, act July 12, 1882, series 1888 and payable to bearer, were in number 1,912, and in amount $13,960,000, being a decrease on last year in receipts of 2,621 certificates and in amount $19,810,000.

These certificates are issued in denominations of $5,000 and $10,000, and this decrease is due to the fact that in April, 1893, when the gold reserve in the Treasury fell below $100,000,000, the issue ceased and has not since been resumed.

The certificates of the same act, called the series of 1882 and made payable to bearer, and of smaller denominations, after count in this office, are destroyed, while those made payable to order are placed on file, there now being on file 18,338 certificates, amounting to $140,235,000.

Currency certificates of deposit, act June 8, 1872, were received in number 3,676 and in amount $36,630,000, being a decrease of 2,423 certificates and $24,300,000 in amount; the total number on hand of these certificates at the close of the year being 117,081, amounting to $1,068,575,000. During the year there were received 84 checks, amounting to $28,345.77, which were issued to holders of Spanish indemnity bonds, being the first received for registration under the new method of paying the interest to claimants.

The total number of interest checks of the United States loans, District of Columbia, and Pacific railroads received was 152,459 and amounting to the sum of $32,940,398.54, being an increase of 50,348 checks and of amount $13,583,813.36. There were on hand at the close of the year 4,990 checks to register and 68,445 to examine. To June 30, 1894, there have been received, registered, and filed in this office 3,462,538 checks, amounting to $641,681,803.19.

In number 773,200 detached redeemed coupons were received, amounting to $3,999,126.27, an increase in receipts on last year of 133,792 coupons and in amount of $805,496.72.

There were on hand at the close of the year, to count and arrange numerically, 70,701; to register, 490,087; and to examine, 692,386 coupons.

To June 30, 1894, there are on file in this office 99,146,061 redeemed detached coupons, amounting in the aggregate to $1,208,366,599.20½.

At intervals during the year part of the coupon force was engaged in restrapping with copper wire old redeemed coupons, a necessary measure for their proper filing and preservation. During the time so employed, 5,589,884 coupons were restrapped, and the whole work nearly completed.

There was a decrease of 3,543 bonds and $3,607,850 in amount in the receipts of coupon bonds, the total receipts for the year being 16,072 and amounting to $8,594,800—all of which were registered, examined, and scheduled at the close of the year.

The total number of coupon bonds of the United States, District of Columbia, and Louisville and Portland Canal Company, registered and now on file in this office, is 1,914,924, with 54,916,362 coupons attached, and amount to $1,101,493,150; and the total number registered and destroyed, 2,363,085, with 76,842,128 coupons attached, and amount to $1,421,687,450—aggregating in number, on hand and destroyed, 4,278,009 bonds, with 131,758,490 coupons attached, and in amount $2,523,180,600, as the records show have been received and registered.

In connection with the bond work and at intervals, much labor during the year has been performed in reexamining the entries in the numerical registers for the purpose of ascertaining the numbers and denominations of outstanding bonds of various old loans, which work when completed will furnish a valuable record of the office. In the performance of this labor 46,720 pages of numerical registers have been examined, containing 2,311,000 entries of coupon bonds, each entry indicating an exchange, transfer, or redemption.

There was an increase of 5,954,529 in the number of pieces in the receipts of the various issues of the currency during the year, and a decrease of $10,330,920.80 in the money value. This decrease in amount can probably be traced to the fact that a large number of gold certificates of large denominations were redeemed in the last fiscal year. The total number of pieces of currency received, counted, canceled, and destroyed during the year was 53,483,932, amounting to $279,244,297.20.

In compliance with the order of the honorable Secretary of the Treasury, dated January 2, 1894, all the old and various series of notes, beginning in 1862, were consolidated in one account, to be known and designated as United States notes. This measure greatly simplifies the work, reduces the amount of labor, and secures greater accuracy in the count and settlements between the offices having in charge the adjustments of the differences.

The total destruction of old demand notes of 1861, United States notes, gold certificates (series 1882), silver and refunding certificates, one, two, and three-year compound interest notes, and fractional currency, amount in the aggregate to $4,318,319,460.20.

According to the records of this office, to June 30, 1894, of seventy-three notes of various acts there are still outstanding $137,900; total issue, $970,087,250. One-year notes, March 3, 1863, $32,435; total issue, $44,520,000; two-year notes, March 3, 1863, $27,650; total issue, $166,480,000. Three-year compound-interest notes, $173,570; total issue, $262,932,000. Gold certificates, March 3, 1863, $248,720; total issue, $981,134,880.46. Certificates of indebtedness, acts March 1, 17, 1862, and March 3, 1863, $3,000; total issue, $561,753,241.65. Three per cent certificates, acts March 2, 1867, and July 25, 1868, $5,000; total issue, $85,155,000. Four per cent refunding certificates, act February 26, 1879, payable to bearer, $58,920; total issue, $39,954,250; and payable to order, $170; total issue, $58,500.

The total number of redeemed securities of the Government of every form of indebtedness on file in this office at the close of the year was 108,444,505 pieces, amounting to $6,887,403,322.93½, and total amount of the same destroyed after registration, $6,314,513,610.20.

The files of the redeemed securities of the Government are now in an overcrowded condition, and as they are accumulating rapidly and daily referred to, there is urgent need for more space for the proper filing of these redeemed evidences of the public debt.

In the files of adjusted accounts received from the accounting officers of the Department there were received and registered 35,438 accounts; withdrawn 34,632, and filed 65,542, and accounts and vouchers numbered 1,130,560; warrants received and filed, 63,897; internal revenue stamp books folded, cut, tagged, and filed 50,789; old accounts rearranged and labeled, 130,861.

Pages transcribed for suits in court, 7,134; pages certified for suits (174 cases), 8,083.

7. A detail of amounts carried to the surplus fund, arising from excess of repayment.
8. A detail of balances due to or by the United States at the end of 1885, wherein certain errors exist and corrections are indicated, to which attention is respectfully and specially invited.
9. A review of balances arising since 1859, remaining due, not counterbalancing.
10. Itemized statements of "Expenses of the national loan" and "Refunding the national debt," from 1862 to 1882, inclusive.

As will be seen in the table of appropriations, there ran from 1848 to 1870, inclusive, an appropriation under the title of "Interest on the public debt created since July 21, 1841, per act of February 9, 1847," amounting to $879,456,562.39. The appropriations on account of the loans of 1841, 1842, 1843, 1846, and 1847, and of unclaimed dividends, loans of 1841, 1842, and 1843, amounting to $4,996,397.21, are not, as in most statements, here included.

Out of this general appropriation the interest on nearly all the loans of the Government was paid. It is said that some years ago on an attempt being made to separate these payments by loans, it was pronounced impossible of accomplishment. In the tables of interest payments herewith submitted, however, it will be seen that the separation has now been made, and the task successfully accomplished. In these sheets alone, to-day, can these payments of interest, in their entirety, be ascertained.

As heretofore it was impossible to say what amount of interest had been paid on any of the loans involved in that general appropriation, here alone the importance of this work is incalculable. But even more was accomplished. In the earlier years, take, for example, the several issues of Treasury notes, running from 1837 to 1846, all but one having their own appropriations. It was found that out of each of these, payments were made on account of some other; while the notes of 1839, having no appropriation, were paid entire out of that for, and as Treasury notes of, 1838; and in later years similar interpayments occurred. It was found not only that premium, interest, and principal had been either charged or credited erroneously, but that at least in the instance of $1,910.50 applying to the temporary loan of 1862, even the outstanding of the public debt was affected.

In order to arrive at the results obtained, however, most every entry, in every journal, appropriation, and personal ledger, for the entire period dealt with, especially entering into the account of "Interest on the public debt," had to be examined, scrutinized, and nearly all transcribed. After the numbers of the reports covering the expenditures had thus been ascertained, and they had, by thousands upon thousands, been drawn from the files, every one of them, with every voucher or scrap of paper they contained, which were simply innumerable, were examined and the facts thus determined. In addition, frequent protracted and exhaustive investigations had to be carried as well through the Auditor's, Comptroller's, and Treasurer's offices, and the public moneys, warrant and loan divisions of the Secretary's Office, often in a vain endeavor to discover the means of supplying omissions, or reconciling existing discrepancies. In many instances, original requisitions, on which the issuance of warrants was based, and certificates of deposit for money covered into the Treasury, when they could be found, had to be consulted.

The fact may well be emphasized here, that the payments as given in the accompanying statement are made up uniformly from the accounts (and their included vouchers) as actually entered on the books of the Register's office in the several years indicated, even after 1870, when separate accounts were opened with the various loans. This, of course, could not have been otherwise so far as payments made out of the general appropriation of "Interest on the public debt" was concerned; but this course was early decided on, even where distinctive appropriation accounts existed, as being more safe and systematic in plan, and it was only thereby that many existing irregularities, discrepancies, and errors, as indicated in the accompanying sheets, could have been discovered.

In prosecuting both branches of the work contained in the tables herewith submitted the number of every report, with the itemized expenditures appertaining to each, had at first to be roughly transcribed. In the instance of the "Expenses of the national loan" and "Refunding the national debt," these have all been copied in detail in suitable books, for preservation and future reference. In the case of the "Interest on the public debt" the same course has been pursued, from 1860 to 1883 inclusive, 1884 being now in hand, leaving 1885, and from 1835 to 1859 inclusive, yet to be taken up. It is important that the data from which the results shown were obtained and compiled should be preserved, and the record should by all means be completed.

NOTE.—In 1833, under the act of March 3, 1817, entitled "An act to provide for the redemption of the public debt," an appropriation was made of $10,000,000, by Warrant No. 51, dated December 31, 1833, for the payment, in general, of principal and interest. The balances in personal accounts brought into 1835 (with the exception of $1,236.69, on Auxiliary Ledger, No. 1, due by "John Pooler" since 1823) arose from advances made out of this amount. At the beginning of 1835, the balance standing to the credit of said appropriation was $2,518,520.99. Out of this all amounts, under their respective titles (excepting for payments on account of Treasury notes of 1837-1838, et seq., for which there were separate appropriations), were annually subappropriated, by distinctive numerical warrants, up to and inclusive of 1840, when the balance then remaining was carried to the "Surplus Fund."

In 1836 there was an excess of repayment of $13,072.49 (over $3,140.32 advanced, etc.) on account of "Interest on the funded debt;" and in 1837, of $28.88 (over a payment of $8.14) total, $13,101.37; and these amounts in conformity with the method which then prevailed, were by reappropriation added to the original or main fund. In 1838 there was nominally "appropriated" for "Interest funded debt" (the payment being actually out of the aforesaid excess of repay) $1.06; in 1839, $0.34, and in 1840, $37.86; total, $39.36; and in 1840, the balance, viz, $13,062.11, as here dealt with, was, with the general amount, of which it formed a part, carried to the "Surplus fund."

These repayments having all been credited in personal accounts, operated to reduce their respective balances. Payments were not always made in conformity with the titles of the appropriations. Thus, while the payments out of the appropriation for "Certain parts of the domestic debt," were all on account of "Registered debt," there was paid in addition, on this account, out of the appropriation for "Interest funded debt," the amount as follows, viz: In 1837, in personal account, out of a balance from 1836, $46.51; in 1845, $20.46; in 1846, $449.33; in 1847, $18.51; in 1848, $881.22; in 1849, $270.39; in 1851, $396.44; in 1852, $327.88, and in 1853, $269.96; total $2,680.70. From this appropriation, in 1845, was also paid $105.37, for principal 3 per cent of 1790.

The balance of the appropriation on account of the "Funded debt," and that for the domestic debt, as well as the balances from 1834, in personal accounts, less repayments, were all applied to the payment of the old loans of the Government, not otherwise provided for, and the repayments above were all credited to the appropriation account, "Interest funded debt."

These balances were finally disposed of as shown on page 76.

The first balance above is from p. 415, auxiliary ledger No. 1, and was due from 1823. All the other balances are from pp. 162 to 168, personal ledger No. 44, for 1834, and arose from advances made out of an appropriation of $10,000,000, made in 1833, for the "Redemption of the public debt." See fuller statement on detail of appropriations.

The following balances due by the United States found on pp. 334, 379, and 525, auxiliary ledger No. 1, the first two due from 1821 and the last from 1829, were not regarded, because (1), on investigation, they proved to be mainly, if not wholly, on account of principal; and (2) as there occurred no transactions affecting them, they remained standing after 1885, with no probability of their ever being paid:

 Manhattan Bank, Treasury notes and interest, from p. 234, ledger 35, 1825 (Report 43095).....$3.30
 New York State Bank, Treasury notes and interest, from p. 242, ledger 35, 1825 (Report 43095).....34.72
 Calley Taylor, principal and interest, certificate registered debt, 1798, from p. 298, ledger 39, 1829:.....7.74

NOTE.—Pay warrant No. 9293, of February 23, 1799, "Principal and interest, certificate registered debt of 1798," in favor of Calley Taylor, for $7.74 (erroneous Report, No. 5423, given in "Daybook" of 1799), outstanding from said year, was in 1830 "carried to the surplus fund."

On December 31, 1829, "General account moneys advanced" was debited with "cancelled warrant," No. 298, of even date, "Principal and interest, certificate registered debt of 1798" for $7.74 (not found on the "Daybook" of 1829), and the same carried to the credit of an account raised thereby with Calley Taylor, on p. 298, personal ledger No. 39 for 1829, whence it was transferred in said year to p. 525, auxiliary ledger No. 1, as per above, where it still remains (after 1885) as a credit balance in his favor.

<sup>1</sup> There was charged up interest on funds held by John Pooler, in 1835, $866.09; in 1841, $364.41; total, $1,230.50. In 1841 he repaid, in excess of $93.58, remaining of the balance from 1834, $346.19, leaving a charge of $884.31, which still remains (after 1885) as an open balance against him (p. 415, auxiliary ledger No. 1).

<sup>2</sup> Repaid (in addition) in excess of balance from 1834 and an advance of $1.35 in 1835, $5.98; the same being a transfer from Benjamin Austin, commissioner of loans, Massachusetts, "Suspense account," raising by said account, there being nothing charged against him, a credit balance of that amount, which still remains (after 1885) standing in his favor, on p. 17, auxiliary ledger No. 1.

<sup>3</sup> Repaid in addition, $46.29, the same being a transfer from Bank of United States as commissioner of loans, "Suspense account," raising in the latter case a credit balance of that amount, which, in 1848, was closed by a transfer in turn from Bank United States account "Relative to installments of bonds due September, 1838," etc.; not involving appropriation on account of interest.

NOTE.—All the above repayments were carried to the credit of the appropriation on account of "Interest funded debt" at the periods when made.

NOTE.—The $18.10 credit balance, standing in favor of F. E. Spinner, on ledger 5, p. 298, is incorrect to this extent: Of the old account, "Interest on the public debt," there remained in his favor, Mar. 10, 1874, per report 26180 (see $0.50 difference under report 24108, of Aug. 12, 1869, the whole account being with "Coin, coupon bonds," on auxiliary ledger 2, p. 547 the following balance, presumably on account of five-twenties of 1862, which, in the fiscal year 1878, was carried to personal ledger 2, p. 382, apparently without anything to confirm it, as "Consols of 1867, old," viz, $24.50. Against this there was subsequently entered Warrant No. 75, of date June 24, 1878, charged in appropriation ledger 3, p. 317, as "Consols of 1865" (see letter of the First Comptroller of date June 20, 1878), $6.40, leaving due the amount as shown on p. 2, of these sheets, viz, $18.10.

The following changes would seem to be here indicated: F. E. Spinner, per ledger 5, p. 294, five-twenties, 1862, Mar. 10, 1874, Cr. $24.50; consols of 1865, June 24, 1878, Dr. $6.40, leaving the same difference as above. See pp. 81 and 84.

DISCOUNTS AND PREMIUMS.

The work under these heads, which is second in importance only to that already completed and which is found to be almost as intricate as that of the interest on the public debt, is now in progress. There are two sides to each of these: discount or premium on both the issue and redemption of several of the loans, while "premium on accrued interest"—being the difference on gold interest, paid in currency—comes in as a complication. The greatest confusion often exists, requiring laborious and exhaustive research to determine the facts. The numbers of all warrants covering in premium had to be ascertained, and the same withdrawn from the files and closely examined. In many instances while the warrant showed only premium, the papers attached (often very bulky) disclosed premium on interest, or a different loan from the one given in the warrant. Constant resort had to be had to the books of the Treasurer's office, returns and transcripts of the assistant treasurers examined, certificates of deposit hunted up, etc. Nevertheless, the task of determining the premium received on account of the several loans is now very nearly accomplished. When completed there will remain yet to be ascertained the premium paid on redemption and the discounts, both received and paid; and it hardly requires to be said here that this most important branch should not, if it can possibly be avoided, be abandoned, necessitating, as it surely will at some future day, a fresh examination.

As a reference, the entire work, if completed, would prove invaluable.

Respectfully,

J. F. TILLMAN,
Register.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

(No. 7.)

In the above table, relating to the accounts settled during the past year, amounting to $7,571,902,865.18, the figures are stated as "the amount involved in footings." It has been the practice to report the amounts in this way. The figures are of course very much larger than the aggregate involved in the accounts themselves, as they include balances of former accounts, which form the first item in subsequent accounts; and in the case of the accounts of the Treasurer of the United States these balances are necessarily large. It would be very difficult and take considerable time of the clerks to so keep the account of the current work as to show only the exact amount of the accounts independently of these balances, and it is not believed to be of sufficient importance to justify the labor that would be required.

In addition to the work above stated in detail there are other duties devolving upon the Comptroller which occupy a large portion of his time, but which are not capable of detailed statement. They relate either directly to the duties specifically imposed upon him by law or to such as arise merely by the regulations of the Department, such as examining the evidence in claims for the issuance of duplicate bonds and other securities, the sufficiency of powers of attorney to collect drafts and transfer registered bonds, and as to the legality of the appointment of executors, administrators, guardians, and other trustees.

The accounts of the officers of United States courts continue to be the most difficult of satisfactory adjustment. The chief reason for this arises from the manner in which they receive their compensation, all of them being paid by fees varying with the amount of business transacted in their offices. It is believed that if these officers were put upon permanent annual salaries, with fixed allowances for expenses, the principal difficulties now experienced would be overcome and a direct saving to the Government might be effected. If the present system is to continue, I urgently renew the recommendations made in my last annual report, that the jurisdiction of the district and circuit courts of the United States concurrent with that of the Court of Claims, upon suits brought by these officers, be taken away, and that the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims in such cases be made exclusive.

Another serious inconvenience in the settlement of the accounts of these officers arises from the insufficiency of the appropriations for the payment of their fees made by Congress in the regular annual appropriation bills. The appropriations for the fiscal year 1895 for these objects are—

| Fees of clerks .....                | 175, 000   |
| Fees of commissioners .....         | 100, 000   |

The same amount was appropriated in the regular appropriation acts for the fiscal year 1894. As a result it has been necessary to appropriate in the various deficiency acts the following sums:

|                                     |            |
|-------------------------------------|------------|
| Fees and expenses of marshals ..... | $600, 000 |
| Fees of district attorneys .....    | 101, 000   |
| Fees of clerks .....                | 116, 000   |
| Fees of commissioners .....         | 187, 200   |

Even these amounts will not be sufficient. As the fees which these officers receive are fixed by statute, the total amount necessary to pay them depends upon the amount of business done in their offices, and is neither increased by large appropriations nor diminished by small ones. In the end the amount necessary has to be appropriated, and failure to make a sufficiently large provision in advance in the regular appropriation acts simply causes difficulties to the officers themselves in the administration of their offices, and delays and extra work in the settlement of their accounts. It is recommended that the attention of Congress be especially called to this matter, and that they be urged to make ample provision for these objects in the regular appropriation acts for the next fiscal year.

The practice has prevailed of paying the fees of these officers earned in civil suits on account of the postal service out of the appropriations for that service, provision being expressly made therefor in the annual appropriation acts for the postal service. It has also been the custom to pay the allowances made to district attorneys by the Secretary of the Treasury, under the provisions of sections 827, 838, and 3085, Revised Statutes, out of the appropriations for collecting the revenue from customs, or for the Internal-Revenue Service, said appropriations being under the control of the Secretary of the Treasury. This has always been an inconvenient method of paying district attorneys, and under the provisions of the new accounting system to take effect on October 1, will be particularly embarrassing, as it will necessitate the sending of such accounts to the Auditor for the Treasury Department for settlement, while the law requires all accounts of district attorneys to be settled by the Auditor for the State and other Departments. It is suggested that Congress be recommended to provide that all fees and allowances made to officers of the courts be paid out of the regular appropriations for their fees and compensation.

The act of July 31, 1894, making appropriations for the legislative, executive, and judicial expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, makes a decided alteration in the accounting offices of the Treasury and a radical change in the system of accounting. The detail revision of accounts heretofore made by the First Comptroller, as well as by the Second Comptroller and the Commissioner of Customs, is abolished, as are the offices of the Second Comptroller and the Commissioner of Customs, the First Comptroller being made the sole Comptroller of the Treasury. A revision of accounts under the new system will only be made when either the head of a Department or the claimant is dissatisfied with the settlement of an account by the Auditor, or when the Comptroller himself has reason to believe that any particular account ought to be subjected to a second revision. Much labor will be saved by this system, and the adjustment of accounts ought to be greatly expedited. It is believed this can be accomplished without danger of mistake or loss to the Government. As the new system does not go into effect until October 1, and its workings can only be definitely ascertained by experience, no recommendations are made in regard to the adjustment of accounts.

It is one of the duties of the First Comptroller to "countersign all warrants drawn by the Secretary of the Treasury which shall be warranted by law." This duty will continue with the Comptroller of the Treasury under the new system. As the Secretary of the Treasury has the duty devolved upon him of originating warrants, and as all such warrants must be countersigned by the Comptroller, no warrant finally becomes effective without their concurrent action. Certain practices of the Department in regard to appropriation warrants have been the subject of consideration by the Secretary and the Comptroller during the past year, and a satisfactory settlement of the practices criticised has been difficult to obtain. Section 5 of the act of June 20, 1874 (18 Stat., 85), requires "all unexpended balances of appropriations which shall have remained upon the books of the Treasury for two fiscal years to be carried to the surplus fund and covered into the Treasury." To this there is, however, added the following proviso: "That this provision shall not apply to permanent specific appropriations, appropriations for rivers and harbors, light-houses, fortifications, public buildings, or the pay of the Navy and Marine Corps, but the appropriations named in this proviso shall continue available until otherwise ordered by Congress."

It has always been difficult to determine exactly what was meant by "permanent specific appropriations," and the practice of the Department has not been uniform in this particular, at times the words receiving a narrow and at other times a liberal construction, while the practice has grown up of treating the appropriations for public improvements, which were neither "rivers and harbors," "light-houses," "fortifications," or "public buildings," as coming within the terms of the proviso and, therefore, as available until exhausted. It is not clear how the practice first arose, but it is probable this construction was given to such appropriations because the reasons why the appropriations for these improvements should continue available until exhausted were the same as induced Congress to so provide for appropriations for rivers and harbors, light-houses, fortifications, and public buildings. Of this character are appropriations for the improvement of the Yellowstone National Park and the Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Park and for the Fort Ethan Allen Military Reservation found in the sundry civil appropriation act of August 18, 1894. As Congress has specifically limited the availability of balances of all appropriations to two fiscal years after the year for which they are made, except appropriations for the six enumerated purposes in the proviso to section 5 of the act of June 20, 1874, it is not seen how any discretion is vested in the Secretary and the Comptroller to enlarge the excepted purposes by the addition of works of the character above named.

An effort has therefore been made to construe all such appropriations found in the appropriation acts for the current fiscal year as limited to the use of that year, and not as permanent appropriations as heretofore. Greater difficulty has, however, been experienced in ascertaining what character of appropriations is intended by the words "permanent specific." The Hon. John Sherman, when Secretary of the Treasury, had the question under consideration, and, on December 14, 1877, in a communication addressed to the Hon. Samuel J. Randall, Speaker of the House of Representatives, he said: "The words 'permanent appropriations' should be confined to appropriations such as private bills, where nothing is left to executive officers for examination or inquiry except to identify the party or to comply with some specific duty pointed out by the specific appropriation. A 'specific appropriation' is one where the amount, the subject, or the person is designated particularly or in detail. It may be, and usually is, permanent in terms, because not limited as to time, like an annual appropriation. * * *" In practice, however, the words have not been restricted to the narrow meaning placed upon them by Secretary Sherman.

Among the appropriations made in the appropriation acts for the current fiscal year, about which this question has been raised, are those "For constructing a revenue steamer of the first class, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, for service on the New England coast, $75,000," and for constructing a similar steamer for service on the Great Lakes, $75,000; for the purchase or construction of one steam tug for the harbor of New York, under the War Department, and the appropriation "To enable the Attorney-General to represent and protect the interests of the United States in matters and suits affecting the Pacific railroads and for matters in connection therewith, $30,000." All these appropriations are found in the sundry civil appropriation act of August 18, 1894, which act began with the following sentence: "That the following sums be, and the same are hereby, appropriated for the objects hereinafter expressed, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895."

The appropriations above enumerated are but examples of a large class of appropriations annually made in the various appropriation acts, which, by their terms, are limited to the fiscal year for which the appropriations are made, but which, by the practice of the Department, have been treated as available until expended, being construed to be "permanent specific appropriations," and therefore within the exception contained in the proviso to section 5 of the act of June 20, 1874. It is extremely doubtful whether the words "permanent specific appropriations" were intended to cover appropriations of this character. They certainly do not come within the definition prescribed by Secretary Sherman. It is earnestly recommended that the attention of Congress be called to this matter, in order that a legal definition of the words "permanent specific appropriations" may be made, and it is also recommended that where Congress intends an appropriation contained in an annual appropriation act to be used for expenses incurred after the expiration of the year for which the appropriations contained in said act are made, they should clearly indicate their purpose by adding to the same the words "to be available until expended," as sometimes now is done.

R. B. BOWLER,
Comptroller.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

REPORT OF THE SECOND COMPTROLLER.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
SECOND COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., August 29, 1894.

It will be observed by a comparison of the work of this office for the past three fiscal years the amount in volume has been very much increased; in round numbers, since the fiscal year 1891, $104,000,000, with an increase in the last fiscal year of over $74,000,000.

It gives me great pleasure to bear testimony to the efficient service rendered in the aggregate by the clerks in this Bureau. With scarcely an exception, their faithful service and ability in the discharge of the onerous duties imposed upon them have commanded my highest respect.

Under the provisions of the act "Making appropriations for the legislative, executive, and judicial expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, and for other purposes," this Bureau is abolished on October 1, 1894.

I have no suggestions to make, but content myself with a simple statement of the character and amount of work done in the various divisions during the past fiscal year, supplemented by a statement of the quantity and character of work on hand, in each division, on the first day of the present fiscal year.

This office was created by the fifth section of the act of March 3, 1849, and went into operation on July 1 of that year; was abolished by the fourth section of the act of July 31, 1894, which takes effect on September 30, 1894, giving as the period of its existence forty-five years and three months, during which time the accounts of over $6,300,000,000 of customs receipts have been adjusted, on which the loss has been insignificant.

The Commissioners of Customs were as follows: Charles W. Rockwell, Connecticut, July 1, 1849, to December 24, 1852; J. N. Barker, Acting, Pennsylvania, December 25, 1852, to April 24, 1853; Hugh J. Anderson, Maine, April 25, 1853, to December 4, 1857; Samuelingham, Connecticut, December 5, 1857, to May 19, 1861; Nathan Sargent, Pennsylvania, May 20, 1861, to May 31, 1871; Henry A. Lockwood, Acting, Wisconsin, June 1, 1871, to July 2, 1871; William T. Haines, Pennsylvania, July 3, 1871, to April 30, 1874; Henry C. Johnson, Pennsylvania, May 1, 1874, to April 7, 1885; John S. McCalmont, Pennsylvania, April 8, 1885, to June 14, 1889; Samuel V. Holliday, Pennsylvania, June 15, 1889, to May 31, 1893; William H. Pugh, Ohio, June 1, 1893, to September 30, 1894.

There have only been three chief clerks, or deputy commissioners, during the whole time: John D. Barclay, Thomas Feran, Henry A. Lockwood.

The personnel of the office at its inception numbered 14 including the Commissioner. This force gradually increased until the period when it is to be abolished it numbered 33, a little more than 100 per cent of increase, but the increase in business was more than 400 per cent.

An effort has been made to close up the work of the fiscal year 1894 by the time that the law for the abolition of the office goes into effect, but the shortness of the time has prevented.

It is confidently asserted that an examination of the customs ledgers of the Department for the time this office has been in existence—especially the latter portion of it—will show as great, if not the greatest, percentage of business transacted to the unadjusted losses, of any branch of the Government.

In closing this the last report of the Commissioner of Customs it is but right that I pay a tribute of justice to those who have been associated with me, and under my direction have assisted in the discharge of the duties of the office. With faithful and intelligent industry they have ever upheld my hands in the discharge of my duty; and it is not one of the least of the trials incident to the discontinuance of the office to part with those with whom I have had such pleasant relations, and I most cordially recommend them to your favorable consideration as worthy of being provided for in the coming reorganization of the Treasury Department.

I inclose herewith the statements (A) of transactions in bonded goods as shown by the adjusted accounts; (B) statement of transactions in transportation; (C) statement of transactions in exportation; (D) approximate statement of merchandise imported for exhibition at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago during July, August, September, and October, 1893; (E) approximate statement of merchandise received at San Francisco, Cal., for exhibition at the Mid-winter International Exposition, 1893-'94; (F) merchandise transported without appraisement under act of June 10, 1880; (G) approximate statement of merchandise imported under consular seal pursuant to Department Circular No. 100, July 2, 1891.

Respectfully, yours,

WM. H. PUGH,
Commissioner of Customs.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

The foregoing exhibit shows that the volume of business done in this office is steadily increasing each year. In my last annual report I stated that the work of the office had been brought up so near to date that it would be but a short time before all delayed business in the office was disposed of.

When I assumed the charge of this office, April 1, 1893, there were awaiting adjustment 4,737 accounts of all classes, and of this number 1,167 had been in the office from three months to two years. On the 30th day of June, 1893, the total number had been reduced to 3,647—a reduction of 1,090. I am now able to state that the total number of accounts remaining in the office at the close of business June 30, 1894, was 1,156, and of this number all except 36 were received during the quarter then ended, and these few could not have been audited.

Of the 1,156 accounts on hand at the close of the year, 497 had been examined and were awaiting either certificates of the revised balances on the preceding accounts, or warrants covering deposits. Of the 659 accounts remaining, after deducting the 497 examined, all but 50 or 60 were monthly accounts that are stated quarterly and could not be audited till the June accounts were received after the close of the fiscal year, or were accounts that were awaiting explanations from the officers or persons rendering them.

It will be seen that at the end of the fiscal year there was not a single delayed item of business in this office, and that the accounts that could have been audited amounted to only about one-half of the receipts of one day. The enforcement of the rule against making accounts special, and requiring all business to be disposed of in the order of its receipt, has had a tendency to cause officers and others sending accounts to this office to put them in such perfect form that they would not be returned for correction, and has enabled me to so dispose of public business that a request to make an account special is very rare, while formerly many of them were made daily.

At the beginning of the fiscal year the six divisions that had existed in this office for years I consolidated into the four for which chiefs are provided by law. The division of mints and subtreasuries was consolidated with the miscellaneous division, and the warehouse and bond division with the customs division. Under the consolidation the business of the office is as correctly and speedily disposed of as before, and the services of the two clerks of class four formerly acting as chiefs of division are now given to the adjustment of accounts. By an agreement with the First Comptroller and with your approval many small accounts heretofore stated in this office have this year been paid by the disbursing officers of the Treasury Department, and the great labor of their statement and revision before payment and the issue of warrants thereon has been avoided. The change has proven most satisfactory. Of the accounts thus changed those of the inspectors of steam vessels number over one thousand. This action decreased the number of accounts stated, but the amount paid is found in the disbursements by the disbursing officers.

I desire to express my appreciation of the efforts of the deputy auditor, chiefs of division, and clerks in this office, all of whom have worked with the greatest zeal and enthusiasm to accomplish the result now reported. They have shown a commendable pride in their work and the good standing of their office, without which it would have been impossible to dispose of the public business in arrears and be able to audit all accounts within a few days after their receipt.

In my last annual report I expressed the belief that, notwithstanding the fact that the work of the office had increased over 35 per cent since the last increase of the clerical force July 1, 1880, the present force was sufficient to bring the work up to date and to keep it there. This result has been accomplished without help and without requiring clerks to work overhours.

E. P. BALDWIN,
First Auditor.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

REPORT OF THE SECOND AUDITOR.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
SECOND AUDITOR'S OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., September 29, 1894.

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following annual report, showing the details of the work performed in this office during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894.

A brief statement of the duties of each division is given, with a detailed report of the work performed by each division.

BOOKKEEPER'S DIVISION.

This division keeps a journal and ledger record of all disbursing officers' accounts and of all claims (except claims for arrears of pay and bounty) which come within the jurisdiction of the Second Auditor and Second Comptroller; also ledger accounts of the various appropriations involved in said accounts and claims. All requisitions issued by the Secretary of the Interior on Indian account, and such requisitions of the Secretary of War as are chargeable to appropriations on the books of this office, are registered, indexed, and posted under their proper heads. Claims of heirs of deceased payees of paymasters' checks are adjusted in this division and a record is kept of valuable effects of deceased soldiers. Certificates are issued as to the indebtedness or nonindebtedness of claimants, and claims for pay, etc., in cases where the claimants are charged on the books of this office, or on the Third Auditor's books, are referred to the bookkeeper for settlement. A proper record is kept of suits pending against the United States in the Court of Claims and in the circuit and district courts of the United States, in cases where notice is received that such suits have been entered, and all information, copies of documents, etc., required by the courts or the Attorney-General in Army cases are furnished by this division. (Calls for information, etc., in Indian cases are attended to by the Indian division.)

A record is also kept of the data contained in the annual report of the Auditor, annual and other estimates, and such reports or information as this office may be required to furnish to Congress or any of the Departments.

APPLICATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.

The application of moneys appropriated for the Indian service, the Medical Department, Pay Department, Ordnance Department, expenses of the Commanding General's Office, contingencies of the Adjutant-General's Office, the Soldiers' Home, the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, the Artillery School at Fortress Monroe, publication of Official Records of the War of the Rebellion, contingencies of the Military Establishment, etc., is indicated by the subjoined tabular statements of amounts drawn from the Treasury on requisitions of the Secretary of War and Secretary of the Interior, repayments of unexpended balances, and aggregate balances remaining in the Treasury on June 30, 1894.

PAYMASTERS, ORDNANCE, AND MEDICAL DIVISION.

The paymasters division and the ordnance, medical, and miscellaneous division were consolidated on October 13, 1893, under the title of the paymasters, ordnance, and medical division, and the work of recording payments to officers and men of the regular Army was reassigned to this division, and the record of payments to officers of volunteers transferred to the archives division.

The duties of the paymasters' section of this division are to audit and adjust the accounts of Army paymasters; to state accounts in favor of the Soldiers' Home for the monthly contributions of 12½ cents by enlisted men of the Army, court-martial fines, forfeitures by desertion, etc.; to keep a record of deposits by and repayments to enlisted men; to determine the longevity status of officers of the Army; to raise charges against officers for overpayments, erroneous musters, etc.; to transfer to the Third Auditor's books such amounts collected by paymasters as have not already been deposited and passed to the credit of the proper appropriations on books of the Second and Third Auditors, and to make such settlements of a miscellaneous character as are incidental to the general work of the division.

The duties of the ordnance, medical, and miscellaneous section of this division are to audit all other disbursing accounts of the Army rendered to the Second Auditor's office; also the accounts of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers and the military accounts of the disbursing clerk of the War Department; also claims of a miscellaneous character, namely, claims under special acts of Congress; claims for material furnished the Ordnance Department; for refundment of bounty money taken from soldiers under General Orders 305 of 1864; for refundment of money erroneously paid to secure exemption from draft, etc. The book records of payments to officers of the regular and volunteer armies are kept in this division, and transcripts from said records are furnished when required by other divisions. It also has charge of the files of settled ordnance, medical, and miscellaneous accounts from 1817 to date.

INDIAN DIVISION.

The general duties of the Indian division are to audit the money accounts of Indian agents and other disbursing officers of the Indian service and the claims of contractors, employes, etc., for supplies furnished and services rendered; also to examine and finally dispose of the property accounts of Indian disbursing officers and to keep records of contracts for supplies and delivery thereunder, so that any article can be readily traced from the place of purchase to its destination. This division has charge of the files of settled accounts and claims pertaining to the Indian service, and furnishes to the Attorney-General and to the proper courts such information and documentary evidence as may be found in said files touching suits against the United States. It also makes transcripts of the accounts of Indian disbursing officers in cases where it is necessary to bring suit for balances found due the Government.

The following table exhibits the work for the year upon accounts and claims:

It will be seen from the above comparative exhibit that there were 176 more "cash accounts" on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, 1894, than at the same period of 1893. There were also 122 more received than in the former year, making a total net increase of 298.

There appears, also, an increase over 1893 of 188 in the number examined and stated, or nearly 25 per cent. And yet the number remaining on hand at present is 110 greater than at same period last year. This clearly indicates the necessity for an increase in the force of clerks in the division, to cope with the constantly increasing work of the Indian Service.

It will also be observed that there were on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year 1894, 78 more "property accounts" than at same period previous year, also an increase in number received of 190; total increase, 268. There were examined and stated during the year 277 more than in the year before, a net increase, in volume of work done, of about 47 per cent.

Increase in number of letters written, 172; in number of pages copied, 5,620; in number of transcripts, 23, the latter furnished as follows:

PAY AND BOUNTY DIVISION.

This division is subdivided into six branches or sections, namely:

(1) The registering branch, by which all claims for arrears of pay and bounty that have accrued since April 13, 1861, are received, registered according to regiments or other independent organizations, and sent to the files of claims awaiting examination. After being certified by the Second Auditor and Second Comptroller, the claims again pass through this branch in order that the number of the certificates may be entered on the claims' register, thus completing the record. Letters of inquiry concerning claims, either settled or pending, are necessarily referred to this branch for information as to date of filing, number of certificate, etc.

(2) The examining branch, by which such evidence as may be necessary to complete claims is collected and scrutinized. When completed, if there appears to be anything due from the United States, the cases, after passing the board of review, go to the settling branch for adjustment. In cases where formal settlements have not previously been made, and it is evident that nothing is due the claimants, settlements disallowing the claims are made in this branch and are disallowed by the Second Auditor under the provisions of the act of July 16, 1892. In cases where formal settlements have already been made and it is apparent that nothing further is due, claimants are so notified and the papers are filed with said settlements.

(3) The settling branch, by which all claims passed by the examining branch and reported correct by the board of review are formally adjusted by certificate settlements and reported to the Second Comptroller.

(4) The correspondence branch, in which inquiries relating to settled claims, and all letters from members of Congress in regard to claims, whether open or settled, are answered, and the miscellaneous correspondence attended to, including the writing of letters to claimants and attorneys, notifying them of the settlement of their claims. This branch also transmits certificates to the Paymaster-General for payment, and keeps the necessary records showing under what heads of appropriations balances have been certified.

(5) Branch in charge of open and disallowed files.—These files consist of claims awaiting evidence to be furnished by claimants and attorneys, claims awaiting action by the examining and settling branches, claims summarily disallowed by the Auditor prior to January 1, 1882, and not since called up, and claims which have not been completed by the parties in interest and are regarded as abandoned.

(6) Branch in charge of files of settled claims.—These files consist of claims for arrears of pay and bounty which have been formally certified by the Second Auditor and Second Comptroller since 1832.

The following is a record of last year's work:

The work of the pay and bounty division is still nearly two years behind, although the above tabulated statement shows that a gradual gain has been made on the back work during the last two years, the number of claims on hand having been reduced by 5,716 claims during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, and having been still further reduced by 6,750 claims during the last fiscal year, which has about brought the work up to claims filed in 1893. At the same rate of gain on this back work it will require the present force at least five years to bring the work up to date, if as many new claims continue to be filed; but an increase of 25 clerks would enable this work to be brought up to date within two years, and I therefore respectfully recommend that this increase of force be made, in order that all just claims for pay and bounty due to soldiers and to the families of deceased soldiers may be paid more promptly.

MAIL AND PROPERTY DIVISION.

The mail division and the property division were consolidated October 13, 1893, and a part of the division of inquiries and replies afterwards added thereto, under the title of the mail and property division, and the work divided into three sections.

The following is a summary of the work of each of said sections during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894:

Mail section.—The work in this section is to carefully examine, stamp, assort, and distribute all of the incoming mail received in this office, including the general departmental mail, claims, and papers received daily from the Second Comptroller's Office, the War Department, Indian Office, etc.; to brief, jacket, and register claims and important papers, additional evidence, etc., and send them to the proper divisions; to inspect the outgoing mail and see that all errors and irregularities are corrected; to answer all letters which do not pertain to claims on file, and to refer or properly dispose of all letters, claims, etc., which do not come within the jurisdiction of the Second Auditor. The mail is properly disposed of on the same day as received, while special and important matters receive immediate attention and action.

The following statement is a summary of work for this section for the past fiscal year:

Property section.—The duties of this section are to examine and settle clothing, camp, and garrison equipage accounts of Army officers, and to keep proper files of such accounts, both settled and unsettled.

Under the provisions of the act of Congress approved March 29, 1894, the War Department, on May 19, 1894, ceased sending such accounts to this office for reexamination and settlement. Upon the completion of the examination of the returns now on hand this portion of the work will be dispensed with. This section also answers calls made by the pay and bounty division of this office, by the Third Auditor, or by the officer concerned, or his representative, and issues certificates as to the indebtedness or the nonindebtedness of regular and volunteer officers who served in the U. S. Army since March 31, 1817.

The following is a record of the work performed in this section during the past fiscal year:

Inquiries and replies section.—The duties of this section are to answer calls for information in regard to officers and enlisted men who served in the U. S. armies since July 1, 1815, from the Adjutant-General, U. S. Army, Record and Pension Office, Quartermaster-General, Commissary General of Subsistence, War Department, the Commissioner of Pensions, the Third and Fourth Auditors of the Treasury; also to compare and verify the signatures of claimants and their witnesses, who have claims pending in the Pension and Third Auditor's Office, with their signatures on the original rolls and vouchers on file in this office, and to verify the signatures of Army officers to certain papers submitted by said officers, and to furnish copies of such affidavits, final statements, certificates of disability, or other papers, as may be required by the different officers of the U. #### ARCHIVES DIVISION.

This division has charge of all accounts of Army paymasters which have ever been settled by the Second Auditor and Second Comptroller; book records of payments to regiments, batteries, and other independent organizations, detachments, hospitals, paroled prisoners of war, recruiting parties, and all other separate commands; also book records of payments to officers of the volunteer service and to volunteer enlisted men who were discharged before the expiration of their terms of service, and the card indexes of payments to enlisted men absent from their regular commands.

The principal duties assigned to this division are as follows: To withdraw from the files such vouchers as are required by other divisions and return them to their proper places when no longer required; to furnish the pay and bounty division with abstracts from the book records of payments to volunteer officers and with transcripts of the paymasters' accounts, for use in the settlement of claims for arrears of pay and bounty; to furnish information from the card indexes relative to payments made to enlisted men who were not paid on the regular pay rolls of their commands, and to copy or repair worn and defaced muster and pay rolls.

The card indexing of payments to enlisted men absent from their commands on detached service, in hospitals, parole camps, etc., which was begun on April 1, 1891, is very nearly completed. It will be supplemented by a card catalogue of all the muster and pay rolls in the files of this office, aside from the rolls of regular commands, which will be classified and arranged in such a manner that reference can almost instantly be made to any pay roll desired.

The foregoing report gives a detailed account of the work performed by the several divisions in this Bureau as constituted during the past fiscal year. Under the provisions of an act of Congress approved July 31, 1894 certain changes were made in the methods of accounting in the Treasury, to take effect October 1, 1894, which will require a reorganization to some extent of this Bureau. And the Second Auditor, to be designated hereafter as "The Auditor for the War Department," will audit only accounts of the War Department, as shown by the following extract from section 7 of said act:

"Second. The Auditor for the War Department shall receive and examine all accounts of salaries and incidental expenses of the office of the Secretary of War and all bureaus and offices under his direction; all accounts relating to the military establishment, armories and arsenals, national cemeteries, fortifications, public buildings and grounds under the Chief of Engineers, rivers and harbors, the Military Academy, and to all other business within the jurisdiction of the Department of War, and certify the balances arising thereon to the division of bookkeeping and warrants, and send forthwith a copy of each certificate to the Secretary of War."

In consequence of said legislation the work heretofore done by the bookkeepers' division in this office will be transferred to the division of bookkeeping and warrants in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury, and the work done by the Indian division in this office will be transferred to the office of the Third Auditor, hereafter designated as "the Auditor for the Interior Department," and the work heretofore done by the military division and the claims division in the Third Auditor's Office will be transferred to this office, and the work of auditing all other accounts relating to or coming within the jurisdiction of the War Department heretofore done in the office of either of the other Auditors will be transferred to this office; and the divisions in this office, after October 1, 1894, will therefore be constituted as follows: Pay and bounty division, mail and property division, archives division, paymaster, ordnance, and medical division, military division, and review division.

It gives me much pleasure to state that the clerical force and other employés of this Bureau have discharged their respective duties with commendable faithfulness and efficiency.

Very respectfully,

T. STOBO FARROW,
Auditor.

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

The condition of the work of auditing and settling the accounts of the several agents for paying Army pensions and the progress made therein during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, are extremely gratifying, the work being practically up to date. By reference to the following tabular statements it will be seen that at the beginning of the year there were in this office 142 unsettled accounts of pension agents, involving the sum of $102,474,209.17, of which accounts there remained unexamined at that time 1,284,310 vouchers. There were received during the year 231 accounts, involving $139,959,445.39, and containing 3,986,594 vouchers, making a total of 373 accounts, involving $242,433,654.56, and requiring in their adjustment the examination of 5,270,904 vouchers. There were examined during the year 4,532,235 vouchers, a gain over the receipts of 545,641; and settlements were made of 296 accounts, involving $202,688,577.22, a gain over receipts of 65 accounts, involving $62,729,133.83. There remained unsettled at the close of the year 77 accounts, involving $39,745,077.34. These unsettled accounts pertain to the quarter ending March 31, 1894, and months of April and May, so far as received. They contain 1,051,378 vouchers, of which 312,709 belonging to the March quarter had been examined, leaving 738,669 unexamined at the close of the year. ## MILITARY DIVISION.

The military division examines and adjusts the money accounts and property returns pertaining to the Quartermaster's Department, Subsistence Department, Corps of Engineers, Military Academy, Military Prison, Mackinac National Park, Chicamauga and Chattanooga National parks, surveys of battle fields, and such other accounts of the War Department as are required by law to be settled in this office.

In the fiscal year just closed, 2,020 accounts, involving \$20,141,993.70, more were settled than during the fiscal year 1893, which is a very gratifying exhibit, especially in view of the fact that the average number of clerks employed in the military division during the fiscal year 1894 was 27, against 27  $\frac{1}{2}$  during the preceding year.

The great increase in the receipts and settlements this year, over those of last year, was due to an effort of the War Department to dispose of an accumulation of accounts in that Department, and a strenuous effort on my part to have settlements keep pace with receipts as nearly as possible, and so arrive at settlements of the accounts nearer the period of rendition. As the result of this endeavor, I am able to report that accounts are now adjusted nearer the date of rendition than at any period subsequent to 1861.

The number of property returns received during the fiscal year 1894 is 1,476 less than last year and the number settled is 1,125 less than last year. This arises from the fact that the act of Congress passed the 29th of March last provides that the War Department shall thereafter settle the returns of the officers of the Army. This law afforded the War Department the opportunity to hasten the settlement of pending money accounts. This division pursued a like policy, putting property returns then in this office aside till the close of the year, when their settlement will be resumed with the view of closing them all up at the earliest practicable period.

Four clerks detailed from other divisions and such as have been regularly employed on property returns have been employed one and one-half months, making necessary arithmetical computations for those engaged in adjusting money accounts. In this way 175 accounts, embracing 72,321 vouchers, involving $2,007,223.56, have received preliminary examinations, which will materially assist in reaching early settlements of money accounts.

On March 30, 1833, a fire in the Treasury Department destroyed many valuable papers pertaining to the last war with Great Britain. Among the papers so destroyed were a large portion of the rolls of troops of the States in the United States service during said war, and the respective States furnished their retained rolls of their troops as substitutes for the rolls destroyed. The State of New York was one of the States that furnished their retained rolls. But many of the New York soldiers did not receive the allowances from the State they were entitled to, and they, or their heirs, have been pressing the State for settlement. As the State had transmitted its "retained" rolls to the U. S. Treasury Department, it was unable to arrive at a satisfactory adjustment of the claims referred to; and the State made request for copies of its rolls in order that the claims above referred to might be adjudicated.

During the early part of the present fiscal year the work on the rolls was commenced, and considerable progress has been made (1,665 rolls and 2,445 vouchers for personal payments have been copied). By reason of the pressure of current business this work has been suspended, but will be resumed as early as practicable.

* An actual and careful examination of the dockets and other records of the division showed that there were 3,671 claims pending and undisposed of which were not carried on the reports of the office as work before it. These, added to the claims shown by the reports to be pending, exhibit the actual number of claims on hand June 30, 1894.

The files are very much crowded, and I can not urge too strongly the necessity of providing additional room. The business of this division consists largely in the examination of claims growing out of the war of the rebellion. Many of them are of long standing, requiring much care in their preparation. The largest proportion of current business consists of claims for the transportation of the Army and its supplies over the bond subsidized railroads. In fact, more than 50 per cent of it was on this account during the last fiscal year. The work of this division is of a character requiring clerks of experience good judgment, and knowledge of law. Many of the claims are large in amount, and involve intricate legal questions. The business of the division is well in hand.

BOOKKEEPERS' DIVISION.

This division keeps the appropriation books and money accounts of disbursing officers which are settled in this office, and the accounts upon which pay and counter requisitions are drawn by the Secretaries of War and Interior. All certificates of settlement looking to an expenditure of money in the claims, military, and pension divisions are entered in the books of this division. The statement appended shows the financial operations of the Third Auditor's office for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894. It will be observed that the requisitions upon the Secretary of the Treasury, which passed through this office, for the period above mentioned, amounted to $175,020,478.51, while the total expenditures for the U. S. Government for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1893, were $469,107,312.15. This statement also shows the amounts drawn out of certain of its appropriation accounts and the repayments made through this office into the Treasury during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894, to be $14,162,620.16 less than those of the preceding fiscal year for the same purposes.

The sum of $565.79 was expended under section 4718 of the Revised Statutes to reimburse those who bore the expense of last sickness and burial of pensioners.

In submitting this report I am able to say that the work of the Bureau is up to date, the first time since 1861. The accounts on hand in the paymaster and claims division are held up temporarily awaiting a decision of the U. S. Supreme Court on the questions involved. They will be promptly disposed of as soon as a decision has been received.

The faithful and efficient work performed by the chiefs of division and clerks of the Bureau, a much reduced force, the past year is highly appreciated by me, and I desire to commend them for it. The force of the Bureau will be still smaller next year, but in my judgment amply sufficient to do the work promptly under the new system of accounting, approved July 31, 1894.

REPORT OF THE FIFTH AUDITOR.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE FIFTH AUDITOR,
Washington, D. C., September 29, 1894.

SIR: As requested in the communication of Hon. S. Wike, Acting Secretary, dated the 23d ultimo, I have the honor to submit the annual report of the transactions of this office during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894, and of the present condition of the public business intrusted to my charge.

It is three or four weeks earlier than has been customary in previous years to present the report, but its preparation at this time is important, first, in order that the part relating to the accounts assigned elsewhere on October 1 by recent legislation could be prepared while the work was yet in the office, and second, before the additional labor shall have been entered upon which will be necessary for several weeks to come for putting the office in working order under the new regime. An incompleteness will necessarily exist, however, in some of the tables of the foreign service, by reason of the returns not having been received at so early a date.

A comparison with the report for the previous year will show a larger amount of work done for this year than last. There were 30 per cent. more accounts examined and stated, and the increase in the number of letters written was very nearly in the same proportion; and there were 54,000 more vouchers examined.

The following is a summary of the monthly work reports of the office:

The customary tables, lettered from A to K, will appear at the end of the report as an appendix, showing in detail, by legations, consulates, and internal-revenue districts, the salaries, expenses, collections, and fees involved in the adjustments made; and the following are the résumés of the same as they relate to their respective appropriations, and also of some additional disbursements on other accounts. They will be presented in the order of the divisions of the office, namely:

DIPLOMATIC AND CONSULAR DIVISION.

The accounts of legations which have not yet been received are pointed out by figures referring to footnotes in Table A of the appendix.

The expenditures for contingent expenses, foreign missions, during the year, have again exceeded the appropriation of $90,000 made for that service. The advisability is respectfully suggested of the appropriation for this purpose, and also for the contingent expenses, United States consulates, being sufficiently increased in the future to cover the constantly recurring deficits each year for these objects, and thus save the officers affected thereby much inconvenience and expense.

Consular service.—Accounts of consular officers have been adjusted, showing expenses for this service and official fees collected as follows (Tables B, C, D, and E of the appendix):

| Received :                                                                    |              |
| Consular fees received for official services.....                             | 758,410.81   |
| Excess of expenditures over receipts.....                                     | 297,006.62   |

The excess of expenses of the consular service over the receipts for fees; as shown above, is larger than it has ever been in any year since this office commenced to make a comparative statement in its report, in 1881. The largest excess of expenditures till now was in 1892, and was then $157,545.05. The receipts exceeded the expenses from 1887 to 1890, inclusive. Since 1890 the balance has been on the side of the expenses.

The excess this year in expenses is mainly due to the large falling off in the fees. The total expenses, however, are $49,685.73 less than they were last year, notwithstanding the item of salaries while receiving instructions and in transit of consular officers is almost double the amount for 1893.

The following is a statement comparing the consular fees and expenses during the years back to 1883, inclusive:

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF CONSULAR FEES RECEIVED AND EXPENDITURES

Consular fees.—The consular fees collected for official services are stated in detail as to the character and amount at each consulate in Table H of the appendix, and aggregate in kind and amount as follows:

|                            |              |
|----------------------------|--------------|
| Invoice certificates.....  | $683,226.50 |
| Landing certificates.....  | 25,157.60    |
| Bills of health.....       | 30,190.50    |
| Currency certificates..... | 1,076.00     |
| Miscellaneous.....         | 18,760.21    |
| Total.....                 | 758,410.81   |

The fees in the aggregate are about 25 per cent. less than they were for the last fiscal year. Those for bills of health show an increase of over 25 per cent. The fees for currency certificates were abolished during the year, which accounts for the small sum collected for them, the amount last year being $10,302.

The bulk of the depreciation in the fees is for consular certificates to certified invoices, from which it may be deduced that the same ratio of reduction exists in the number of invoices of merchandise which has been imported into the United States during the year, namely, over 25 per cent.

Relief of seamen.—As shown by Tables F and G of the appendix accounts for relief of seamen and wages were adjusted with the following results:

|                                                            |              |

| Amount paid by the United States.....                      | 21,304.43    |

| Total sum appropriated.....                                | 50,000.00    |

The amount paid last year for the relief of 1,114 seamen was $24,769.19, while for this year 1,040 seamen were relieved at a cost of $21,304.43. Considerably more than one-third of the total expenditure for the relief of seamen of the United States is made and authorized by consuls at British Canadian ports for sailors from American fishing vessels.

REPORT OF THE SIXTH AUDITOR.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SIXTH AUDITOR,
Washington, D. C., October 11, 1891.

SIR: The following report presents an account of the transactions of this office, and of the financial operations of the Post-Office Department, during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1894:

In compliance with your order dated January 4, 1894, a reorganization of the business methods of this office has been effected during the fiscal year, based upon the recommendations of the Joint Commission of Congress.

The number of divisions has been reduced from 10 to 7. Two divisions, the examining and the review, have been discontinued, and the business heretofore transacted by them absorbed by the bookkeeping and collecting divisions, in which it is performed with economy and accuracy. Under the present system the work of examining and auditing the postal accounts of postmasters of all classes is assigned to the bookkeeping division, thus avoiding the necessity for a review of the work, except in the case of the discovery of an error on the part of a postmaster. In such cases the work of the auditing bookkeeper is reexamined before it is finally accepted as correct.

The collecting division reexamines accounts in which errors have been discovered by the bookkeeping division, notifies all postmasters of the state of their accounts each quarter, collects balances due the United States, and pays balances due late and present postmasters.

As required by the reorganization, the files of the postal accounts have been so disposed as to place those for the year last past in close proximity to the clerks who need to have recourse to them in their work. This arrangement, which was accomplished after considerable labor, is found very satisfactory, as it discontinues the system of briefing data of previous settlements upon jackets of account, which consumed much time.

The general effect of the change of system as it relates to auditing the postal account is beneficial, in that it has diminished the number of clerks without the loss of any check material to accurate auditing, provided that the force of clerks engaged upon the work is kept to a high degree of accuracy and proficiency. I have endeavored to weed out the negligent and inaccurate, and the force now employed upon the postal account performs the work conscientiously and with accuracy. The number of persons through whose hands accounts are passed is lessened, thus hastening settlements, and the number of records required to be kept is reduced without impairing the resources of information regarding accounts necessary for future reference.

The pay division as at present organized audits the accounts of all classes of mail transportation and miscellaneous expenses of the postal service, and performs, with a less number of clerks than were formerly engaged in the review division upon transportation accounts, the work of reviewing settlements, while the standard of accuracy has been fully maintained, if not improved. Care has been taken in reorganizing this division to maintain checks securing accuracy, as payments to the extent of upward of $40,000,000 annually are audited by this division.

The money-order business has been affected by the reorganization commencing July 1, 1894, so as to consolidate the assorting with the checking division. The business of the inspecting division has been most affected by the change. The force of this division has been much strengthened by clerks whose services have been dispensed with on the postal account. The issue of postal notes has been discontinued and money orders limited to $5 substituted. An increase in the number of limited money orders over postal notes heretofore issued is expected by the change. Improvement in method has resulted from dispensing with a separate certificate of deposit for each money-order deposit. Such deposits are now audited by means of transcripts, or lists from the offices receiving them.

The adoption of the new form of coupon money order is of too recent date to admit of any decided statement as to its effect upon the business of this office. I believe, however, that when postmasters become sufficiently acquainted with the manner of handling the new order, and of correctly separating the coupon, which is its prominent feature, it will be approved, and recognized as superior to the forms heretofore in use. Through the inspecting division an extended correspondence with postmasters is in progress, instructing them, when errors are committed in separating the coupon, as to the proper manner of procedure, and inclosing a corrected sample of the money order. If the size of the order were reduced and the quality of paper upon which it is printed improved, it would facilitate handling it in this office, and avoid some of the errors caused by portions of the margin becoming detached. Until the coupons are separated by postmasters with greater accuracy, it will not be practicable to audit by the coupon alone the money orders issued, and it will remain necessary to check the orders with the statements of the issuing offices, as at present.

The inspecting division also transacts a considerable part of the business heretofore in charge of the Superintendent of the Money-Order System of the Post-Office Department. It receives directly from postmasters the weekly, semimonthly, and monthly statements of money-order business, giving them immediate preliminary examination in order to insure the prompt deposit of surplus funds so as to reduce defalcations to a minimum.

Under the act of Congress approved July 16, 1894, authority is vested in the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster-General to cause to be destroyed all paid money orders and postal notes, and all money-order statements which have been filed in this office for ten years or more, and to dispose each year in like manner of one year's files of the oldest date. In conformity with your order 3,000 full mail sacks of money-order vouchers and statements, amounting to 224 tons, covering the period from 1864 to 1884, have been sold to the Antietam Paper Company. The sale has realized about $1,650, and has been of great advantage, as it has yielded valuable space in the basement of the Union building, so that the money orders and statements for the past ten years, 1884 to 1894, have been arranged by years and States and are now accessible for reference.

The total number of money-order offices in operation on June 30, 1890, was 9,382; on June 30, 1894, the number was 19,529, an increase of more than 108 per cent in four years. More than 6,000 of these were made money-order offices during the first, second, and third quarters of the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1892.

From June 30, 1865, to June 30, 1890, the average annual increase in the number of money-order offices was 358.

From June 30, 1890, to June 30, 1893, the increase per annum was 3,017.

The number was increased during the past fiscal year from 18,434 to 19,529, 1,095 offices being added.

Doubling the number of money-order offices in the short space of time above mentioned, the greater number of which were created during part of one year, has imposed an unusually heavy burden upon the clerical force of the money-order branch of this office. It now has supervision of the financial operation of 20,000 offices, in round numbers, instead of 10,000 in 1890, with an immensely increased number of vouchers to handle, with but little increase in its force. The number of employes engaged in the money-order branch of this office on June 30, 1892, was 270; on October 11, 1894, the number was 304.

The total number of persons on the rolls of this office June 30, 1892, was 477. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, the total number is 488.

During the past fiscal year there has been received by postmasters for money orders and postal notes issued the sum of $165,235,129.35. Upon these vouchers there has been paid by postmasters during the same period the sum of $157,983,566.61. Auditing the vouchers which represent these large amounts of money handled by postmasters, seeing to it that deposits are promptly made, and exercising vigilance to protect the Government from loss by defalcation or otherwise, is the province of this office. This work should be done with the care and accuracy which characterizes the business of well-conducted banking institutions. It can not be hurried, or neglected and allowed to fall in arrears without injustice to postmasters and possibly serious loss to the Government.

When I was placed in charge of this office, April 16, 1894, the work of assorting and checking money orders was more than two years in arrears, with more than thirty-five millions of vouchers unassorted. I have succeeded in reducing that number more than one-half, and the recording division is at this time making a final settlement of the money-order accounts of all late postmasters to July 1, 1893.

It has been my constant care to use every effort to bring up to date the great arrears of work in the money-order branch. Every available clerk who could be detached from other divisions has been employed upon it. Advantage has been taken of periods of comparative inactivity in some divisions between the conclusion of one quarter's work and the commencement of the next to detail the entire force to assort money orders. The corps of clerks engaged upon money orders are working until 5 o'clock—an hour extra each day. By these means the work is in an advanced state, and if continued will be brought up to a current date. When once brought up it will require at least the present force to maintain it in that condition, considering the regular annual increase of the business.

The condition of the entire office is good. The force has been so disposed as to reach the best results from the combined labor of all. Wherever it has become apparent that salaries and capacity or diligence were not justly proportioned, I have recommended the regrading or transposition of compensation. In cases of unfitness, inattention, lack of diligence, or other justifying causes in which I have believed it for the best interests of the office to discontinue the services of employes, I have so recommended.

I have exacted from every employé, so far as it has been in my power to do so, a strict compliance with the rules governing the business of the Department as to attendance, conduct, and diligence, and it is gratifying to be able to report a high standard of discipline conducive to the rendition of a full quota of effective service without unnecessary and annoying restrictions. It is with pleasure that I commend to you the clerks of this office. They have, with scarcely an exception, been zealous for its success and good name. To Mr. W. G. Crawford, Deputy Auditor, to the Chief Clerk, and to the gentlemen who as chiefs so successfully manage the seven divisions of the office, I desire to make acknowledgment. These words are added in all sincerity, not as a customary formula. The hearty coöperation of the entire office force gives good promise for the future.

The following letter addressed to the honorable Postmaster-General in regard to securing more speedy action in the investigation and inspection of the accounts of delinquent postmasters I have attached to this report, in the hope that if it meet with your approval such steps be taken as you may deem requisite to carry its suggestions into effect.

Very respectfully,

Geo. A. Howard.
Auditor.

Hon. J. G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Appended hereto will be found also a statement of customs business in all the districts and ports of the United States for the same fiscal year, as well as a comparative statement of aggregate receipts and expenses of collection for the fiscal years 1880 to 1894, inclusive.

While the work of the officers of this division has resulted in the payment into the Treasury of a large amount of money, such result does not adequately represent the actual labor performed.

The presence at unexpected times of officers at exposed places on the frontier and on the coast has deterred smugglers from plying their vocation and has compelled observance of lawful methods. The special officer in the performance of his duty frequently has obstacles to contend with, not the least of which is an adverse public sentiment, particularly noticeable at many frontier settlements, where the perpetration of frauds upon the revenue is not looked upon as evidencing any great turpitude. In many instances where seizures and arrests have been made, the persons implicated have escaped merited punishment on mere technicalities. In other cases violations of the laws reported by special officers have been compromised on reports from collectors of customs recommending such action, and owners of goods have been permitted to pay fines equal in amount to the duties. It is probable that in some instances these recommendations have been made without a thorough and personal investigation of the facts, and upon representations by interested parties. I respectfully suggest that collectors be instructed to examine each case closely before recommending a compromise.

OPIUM SMUGGLING ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

In the latter part of the preceding fiscal year an investigation of alleged methods of smuggling Chinese and opium was begun by officers of this division in the States of Oregon and Washington. This work was continued with the result that a special grand jury was called at Portland, Oreg., July 10, 1893, and on July 15, following, indictments were found against twenty-seven persons, including an ex-collector of customs and a former officer of this force. In October, 1893, another grand jury found additional indictments, making a total of about forty persons charged with conspiracy to illegally import Chinese laborers and prepared opium. The extent of the fraud discovered was so great that it was deemed wise to employ special counsel to assist the U. S. attorney, and at the trials it was established that over 1,500 Chinese laborers and 30,000 pounds of opium had been smuggled into Portland, Oreg., from British Columbia in a period of less than twelve months. Seven of the leading smugglers pleaded guilty and three others were convicted. Two of the latter have appealed their cases to the United States Supreme Court. The proprietors of a steamship company were among the number, as well as an ex-special agent. A decree of forfeiture in the case of the steamship Haytien Republic was entered, and it has since been sold by U. S. marshal. The action of the officers of this division has been approved by the subsequent judgment of the grand juries, trial juries, and by the court, which has refused new trials in each case where convictions were secured.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE CHINESE EXCLUSION LAWS.

Strenuous efforts have been made during the year by inspectors appointed to aid in the enforcement of the exclusion laws to prevent the unlawful admission of Chinese into the country, and to secure the arrest and deportation of Chinese who may have come in by fraudulent means.

In many instances after weeks of unremitting labor in the effort to convict persons for evasion of the laws, they have been discharged from custody on testimony that they were members of firms of Chinese merchants. As an evidence of the worthlessness of such testimony it may be stated that in one instance a firm of so-called merchants has ninety-six members, and the value of the stock in trade is by no means commensurate with the size of the firm. It is a common practice among the Chinese laundrymen, who desire to leave the United States and return thereto, to invest $100, sometimes less, in the business of small dealers in Chinese groceries or other merchandise and by this means establish a claim to consideration as merchants. Efforts were made during the past year to correct this abuse. The treaty lately entered into with China which provides for the return to this country of Chinese laborers if ratified will increase the work of special officers, as it is certain that the number of applicants will exceed that of any year since the passage of the first exclusion law in 1882. During the last year 6,840 Chinese made application for admission. Of this number 5,599 were admitted and 1,241 rejected. One thousand one hundred and sixty-nine Chinese were permitted to pass in transit through the country; 6 of these escaped from the custody of the railroad officials who had them in charge.

EXAMINATION OF CUSTOMS DISTRICTS.

The examination of customs districts has formed no inconsiderable portion of the work of the agents during the year. New officers have been instructed in the performance of their duties, and many irregularities in the administration of the customs corrected. In the examination at one port it was discovered that by collusion between the storekeeper and proprietor of a bonded warehouse the Government had been defrauded of a large amount of duty. Nearly $19,000 were turned into the Treasury as a result of this discovery.

SPECIAL AGENTS IN EUROPE.

The force of special agents in Europe has been strengthened materially during the past year and with good results. They have been actively employed in the investigation of irregular practices in the preparation of invoices covering a great variety of goods shipped to the United States. As a result of their labors the undervaluation of merchandise has been largely checked. The information obtained was promptly placed in possession of consular officers and also transmitted to the board of general appraisers and appraising officers at the several ports in this country. Suit has been instituted in one instance for the recovery of $55,000 and in another for $35,000 on account of duties withheld, the information in both cases being conclusive and furnished by special officers. A seizure of $20,000 worth of jewelry was made on information obtained by one of the officers under the direction of this division. Important investigations, not yet concluded, were instituted during the year with the view of correcting fraudulent practices in the shipment to this country of woolen dress goods from Germany and France. The evil results of the so-called consignment system, by means of which importations were invoiced at the cost to produce rather than at the market value, and the revenue thereby defrauded, have been somewhat lessened.

NECESSITY FOR THE REORGANIZATION OF CUSTOMS SERVICE.

The accompanying statement of the business of the several ports furnishes abundant evidence that there is no commercial necessity for the continuance of custom-house establishments at many places. The greater portion of commerce is now concentrated at the larger ports, and there is practically no other business at many of the ports now established than that pertaining to the documentation of vessels, which may readily be attended to by subordinate customs officers. I am confident that a reorganization of the customs service would secure better administration, while effecting a considerable reduction in expenses. If the Secretary of the Treasury were authorized by law to consolidate customs districts whenever in his judgment the public interests so required, it would be a step in the right direction.

ORES IMPORTED FROM CONTIGUOUS COUNTRIES.

The tariff law provides for the imposition of a duty of three-fourths of 1 cent per pound on lead ores, and a similar rate of duty on lead contained in silver and other ores according to sample and assaying by commercial methods at the port of entry. No provision has been made for the necessary facilities to comply with the provisions of the law, and it is respectfully suggested that until an appropriation is made for the establishment of plants at the ports of entry on the Canadian and Mexican frontiers at which these ores are introduced it will be impracticable to comply strictly with the law.

DANGER TO THE REVENUE THROUGH THE SO-CALLED ZONA LIBRA.

There is abundant opportunity for the perpetration of frauds on the revenue, not only through the irregular introduction of opium, but of merchandise of a general character from Mexico by reason of the continuance of the so-called Zona Libra. While I am aware that the subject is one which properly belongs to another Department, I may be permitted to suggest that the existence of this zone is not only a menace to our revenue but a discrimination against the honest importers of both the United States and Mexico. The Mexican duties are higher than ours and smuggling into both countries is encouraged. As a protection against this the Mexican Government has stationed guards along the border of the zone on its Mexican side. A similar proceeding on the part of our Government would involve large expense, for which, in my opinion, there should be no necessity. This Zona Libra is not popular among the Mexican people, especially among merchants doing business beyond its limits, and American interests are most seriously affected by its existence; it is respectfully suggested that the subject be called to the attention of the honorable the Secretary of State with the view to the submission of the question of its unfriendly effect upon American interests for the consideration of the representative at this capital of the Republic of Mexico.

ABOLISHMENT OF UNNECESSARY BONDS.

Under present regulations bonds are required from all persons making entry of merchandise for warehouse. These bonds should not, in my opinion, be exacted. The warehouses in which imported goods with duties thereon unpaid are placed are bonded and in charge of customs officers. I see no good reason for requiring a bond from an importer for the payment of duties on goods which are in the custody of the Government. The same suggestion may properly be made as to merchandise withdrawn from bonded warehouse for transportation to another port than that into which it was originally imported. The bond provided for by sections 3000 and 3001, Revised Statutes, is for transportation, and the sections referred to are held to apply to the common carriers who convey the merchandise from place to place and who are required to give satisfactory bonds before they are permitted to engage in such transportation. The owner of the goods has no control over or access to them. The bonded carrier is liable for the duties in the event of failure to deliver, and it would seem that the owner of the goods should be relieved from the necessity for guaranteeing the performance of an action, when he has no power whatever in the premises.

LIQUORS AND FIREARMS IN ALASKA—SEAL AND SALMON FISHERIES.

Special officers for the protection of the seal and salmon fisheries of Alaska are under the direction of the division of special agents, and are required to make reports from time to time on matters pertaining to their official duties. Instructions for the guidance of customs and other officials of the Treasury Department in Alaska, when based on Executive orders, are promulgated through this division. Frequent requests have been made to the Department for modification of existing regulations pertaining to the introduction of firearms and liquors into the Territory. To such requests adverse replies have been given. Since the date of the passage of the laws referred to, the condition of affairs then existing in Alaska has materially changed, and the native inhabitants are as submissive to law and, through contact with persons engaged in the development of the resources of the Territory, as fully advised of the advantages of civilization as citizens of any other Territory. I am satisfied that the unusual restrictions imposed by the laws in force, and which are not suitable to the present condition of affairs, retard the interests of Alaska. I am aware of no reason why citizens and business men of that Territory should be denied privileges accorded elsewhere in our country, and I therefore recommend such action as may be necessary to remove the discrimination now practiced.

The importation, manufacture, and sale of liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, and scientific purposes, are now forbidden, but there is abundant reason for the belief that the law is violated and the efforts made to punish persons arrested for such violations have failed because of the refusal of juries to convict offenders. It will be no more difficult to enforce in Alaska laws similar to those prescribed for the government of other Territories than in said Territories. As to firearms the only reason assigned for prohibiting their importation at the time of the passage of the law was the fear of an uprising of the uncivilized inhabitants. If there were ever reasons for the fear referred to they do not exist now and the present condition of the natives is such that firearms are necessary to enable them to provide food for themselves and families.

Respectfully, yours,

J. J. CROWLEY,
Supervising Special Agent.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury.

NOTE.—The accounts of receipts and expenditures published by the Register will vary in some cases from the figures above given, for the reason that his statement is made up from warrants issued during the fiscal year, regardless of balances in the hands of officers at the beginning and end of the year. If the accounts of each collector were closed and balances settled at the end of the fiscal year the two statements would agree.

Thirty-six cases of back pay and bounty were investigated by this service for the Second Auditor of the United States Treasury.

For the Third Auditor of the United States Treasury eight claims, aggregating $4,771.35, made by various persons for reimbursement of expenses incurred in the last sickness and burial of deceased pensioners, have been investigated. The amount of these allowed by the Auditor was $2,712.88, being a gross saving to the Government of $2,058.47.

In addition to the foregoing, miscellaneous work has been performed by this service for other departments of the Government.

The events of the past fiscal year furnish evidence of great activity among counterfeiters. The number of arrests reported largely exceed those of any previous year in the history of this service.

Because the figures show a decrease in the amount of counterfeit notes captured it must not be inferred that counterfeiting paper money is on the decrease. The past year has been prolific in counterfeitings of both the notes and coins of the United States.

Upon assuming the duties as chief February 1, 1894, I found the appropriation nearly exhausted. Upon your recommendation an additional sum of $10,000 was appropriated, making the total amount $61,000, thus enabling the operations of the service to be carried on to the close of the fiscal year, with the good results shown in the above-tabulated statement.

The following new counterfeit notes have appeared during the year:

In September, 1893, a counterfeit $100 United States note, series of 1880, check letter B, W. S. Rosecrans, Register; and J. N. Huston, Treasurer. This note was executed with pen and brush, and would deceive even careful handlers of money. Only one has been seen.

In October, 1893, a counterfeit $20 United States silver certificate, series 1880, check letter A, B. K. Bruce, Register, A. U. Wyman, Treasurer, made its appearance. This note was very badly executed. The maker was captured in Pittsburg, Pa., within a month, and is now serving a six-year-and-eight-month sentence.

In October, 1893, a new counterfeit note appeared. It was a $5 United States silver certificate, series of 1891, check letter C, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, E. H. Nebeker, Treasurer. It was a badly executed wood-cut production which should not deceive anyone. Only a few have been seen.

In December, 1893, another pen-made $100 note was found in circulation. This was of the issue of Treasury notes, series 1890, check letter B, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, J. N. Huston, Treasurer. Like the $100 United States note, series 1880, above-mentioned, this was a marvel of good workmanship, but the manner of its production makes the supply very limited. The one note is all that has been found.

In January, 1894, a counterfeit $10 note on "The National Bank of Vergennes, Vt.," check letter B, B. K. Bruce, Register, C. N. Jordan, Treasurer, appeared. This was a photographic production and not dangerous. Only one note has appeared.

During March, 1894, a dangerous counterfeit of the $2 Treasury note, series 1891, check letter C, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, E. H. Nebeker, Treasurer, was discovered. This note was well executed and printed on paper containing distributed silk threads. Only one has been found.

A counterfeit $1 United States silver certificate, series of 1891, check letter A, J. Fount Tillman, Register, D. N. Morgan, Treasurer, appeared in March, 1894. This note was printed from an etched plate of fair workmanship on paper containing distributed silk threads. But few have been seen in circulation.

In April, 1894, companion photographic counterfeitings appeared, one a $10 note on the "Fort Worth National Bank, of Fort Worth, Texas," check letter C, B. K. Bruce, Register, A. U. Wyman, Treasurer; the other a $20 note on the "First National Bank of Bowie, Texas," check letter A, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, J. N. Huston, Treasurer. Only about half a dozen of these notes were placed in circulation, all in the city of Fort Worth and State of Texas.

A counterfeit $20 United States note also appeared in April, 1894; this was of series 1880, check letter C, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, James W. Hyatt, Treasurer. Was probably printed from a wood-cut plate and is not dangerous. Only two have been seen.

Again in April, 1894, appeared companion photographic counterfeit notes, one a $5 note on the "Derry National Bank, of Derry, N. H.," check letter C, B. K. Bruce, Register, A. U. Wyman, Treasurer, and the other a $20 note on the "South Bend National Bank, of South Bend, Ind.," check letter A, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, J. N. Huston, Treasurer. The former was found to be quite dangerous considering the manner of its production. The paper used was two pieces pasted together with distributed silk between them. The maker of these notes is now awaiting trial.

About May 1, 1894, another counterfeit $2 Treasury note, series 1891, check letter B, J. Fount Tillman, Register, D. N. Morgan, Treasurer, was discovered. This note was probably substituted for the one bearing check letter C, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, E. H. Nebeker, Treasurer, which appeared in March, 1894, and, like it, was printed on paper containing silk threads and considered exceedingly dangerous, but since the arrest of two men in Scranton, Pa., on May 4, 1894, for passing them, they have ceased to appear.

In May, 1894, also appeared a counterfeit $5 silver certificate, series 1891, check letter C. J. Fount Tillman, Register, D. N. Morgan, Treasurer. This note was printed from a lithograph stone. The maker and two confederates have been captured, together with $1,015 in notes, the plates, and other paraphernalia.

In June, 1894, a conspiracy was discovered in Hamburg and Leipzig, Germany, for counterfeiting $5 United States silver certificates, series 1891, check letter A, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, E. H. Nebeker, Treasurer, and £5 Bank of England notes, and all the parties connected therewith arrested, and the plates, presses, etc., together with about $300,000 in United States and $200,000 in English notes captured. None of these notes were brought to this country.

A counterfeit $5 Treasury note, series 1891, check letter A, W. S. Rosecrans, Register, E. H. Nebeker, Treasurer, also appeared in June, 1894. The faulty workmanship of this note accounts for its very limited circulation.

The art of photolithography, however, although seemingly in its infancy, has made it comparatively easy to imitate the most skillfully engraved designs of our notes, so that the danger from this source is not only very grave, but increasing; and to meet these conditions the designs and execution of Government notes should be such as would make their reproduction most difficult. One safeguard still remaining, however, is the secret process of making distinctive paper.

Coin counterfeiters are more numerous than formerly, and more than the usual number of arrests and captures of material have been reported. This branch of counterfeiting, however, is more serious in its results to the community than that of the making of spurious notes and much less difficult of detection. No evidence of advancement in the art of manufacturing counterfeit coin has been shown. Of the numerous counterfeits of the silver coins which have appeared during the past year, none can be classed as especially dangerous.

The figures show a decided increase in the receipt of altered notes during the fiscal year. The arrests of persons charged with altering and passing notes are largely in excess of any previous year, and is due to the promptness of the agents of this service in thoroughly investigating all cases reported to them.

Among the most important arrests of this class of operators were M. T. Paulson at Denver, Colo., on September 16, 1893; and S. J. Freeland and his wife, Belle, at Chicago, Ill., on November 15, 1893. These people were artists in this line of work, and the community is to be congratulated that they are now serving terms in prison.

On February 1, 1894, I found the banking interests deeply concerned over the great number of light-weight gold coins in circulation.

These coins had been impaired by a new and ingenious method, namely: The milled or corrugated rim of the coin had been removed, decreasing its value about 5 per cent, new milling was then put on and the coin, to all appearances, made perfect. I immediately put agents to work, with the result that all of the guilty persons are now serving terms in States prison. One man was arrested in Sioux City, Iowa, on March 19, 1894, and, after trial, was sentenced to imprisonment for eighteen months; another and his wife were subsequently arrested in Baltimore, Md., and sentenced to four years and six months, respectively, under section 5459, Revised Statutes. In both instances a lathe and complete set of tools were captured. Since these arrests were made coins lightened in the manner above described have ceased to appear.

In the prosecution of these cases I was greatly surprised to learn that there is no law to punish uttering or passing such lightened or debased coins, knowing them to be such. I therefore earnestly recommend the passage of an act making it a felony to mutilate United States coins, or to utter, pass, or attempt to pass such coins, and ask that section 5459 of the Revised Statutes of the United States be amended to read as follows:

Every person who fraudulently, by any art, way, or means, defaces, mutilates, impairs, diminishes, falsifies, scales, or lightens, or causes or procures to be fraudulently defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened, or willingly aids, or assists in fraudulently defacing, mutilating, impairing, diminishing, falsifying, scaling, or lightening the gold or silver coins which have been, or which may hereafter be, coined at the mints of the United States, or any foreign gold or silver coins which are by law made current or are in actual use and circulation as money within the United States, or who passes, utters, publishes, or sells, or attempts to pass, utter, publish, or sell, or bring into the United States from any foreign place, knowing the same to be defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened, with intent to defraud any person whatsoever, or has in his possession any such defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened coin, knowing the same to be defaced, mutilated, impaired, diminished, falsified, scaled, or lightened, with intent to defraud any person whatsoever, shall be imprisoned not more than five years and fined not more than two thousand dollars.

Owing to the increased activity of counterfeiting operations, as herebefore mentioned, and finding that the appropriation which sustains the field force of this division provided for the investigation of frauds committed against the pay and bounty laws, and for the investigation of claims for reimbursement of expenses incident to the last sickness and burial of deceased pensioners, as well as violations of section 5209 of the U. S. Revised Statutes, I, on April 19, 1894, submitted for your consideration and recommendation to Congress the following draft of an act to be substituted for the one then being considered:

SUPPRESSING COUNTERFEITING.

For expenses incurred under the authority or with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, in detecting, arresting, and delivering into the custody of the U. S. marshal having jurisdiction dealers and pretended dealers in counterfeit money, and persons engaged in counterfeiting Treasury notes, bonds, national bank notes, and other securities of the United States and of foreign governments, as well as the coins of the United States and of foreign governments, and for no other purpose whatever, $60,000: Provided, That no part of this amount be used in defraying the expenses of any person subpoenaed by the United States courts to attend any trial before a United States court, or preliminary examination before any U. S. commissioner, which expenses shall be paid from the appropriation for "Fees of witnesses, United States courts."

Congress adopted said recommendation in so far as to do away with the investigation of violations of section 5209 of the Revised Statutes, but still left to this division the investigation of frauds against the pay and bounty laws and claims for reimbursement above mentioned.

It is impossible with the limited amount of funds at present available to give the proper attention even to violations of the laws relating to counterfeiting (the legitimate work of this service), and I therefore earnestly request that you again recommend to Congress the passage of the above-worded act making appropriation for the suppression of counterfeiting, substituting therein $100,000 in lieu of "$60,000," the former amount being that included in my estimate of expenses for the fiscal year 1895-1896, and which amount I consider as actually necessary for the satisfactory accomplishment of the work requiring the attention of the operatives of this division.

In my estimate of expenses I have asked for a sufficient amount to admit of the employment of another clerk at $1,600.

The great and increasing value of the work of the agents of this division is not generally understood, from the very nature of our work, which is always of a secret character; but its record leads me to the belief that, with proper encouragement and occasional increases in numbers, it can be made one of the most effective organizations of its kind in the world.

I trust I have made sufficiently explicit explanation of the requirements for the increase in the amount of the appropriation asked for.

Respectfully submitted.

FREE ALCOHOL IN THE ARTS.

Letter of Hon. Joseph S. Miller, Commissioner of Internal Revenue to Hon. John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., November 28, 1894.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.

SIR: In compliance with your request I have the honor to inclose herewith copies of correspondence concerning the provision in the tariff bill of August 28, 1894 (section 61), relative to the use of alcohol in the arts free of internal-revenue tax.

You will observe by my letter of July 6, 1894, copy herewith, that the loss of revenue through the operation of this law is estimated to be about $10,000,000 annually. I am of the opinion at this time that the above estimate is not excessive if all manufacturers who use alcohol in the arts, or in any medicinal or other like compound, should avail themselves of the privilege accorded by the law to use it free of tax.

I have found it impossible to estimate the expense of supervising this matter with any degree of accuracy. It is found, however, in order to prevent fraud and to arrive at the amount of tax to be refunded to persons who use alcohol in the manner provided, that the services, in a sufficient number, of officers whose duties are similar to those of storekeepers, or storekeepers and gaugers, are needed. There are about 1,600 distilleries in the United States requiring the services of some 1,200 storekeepers and gaugers, and 650 storekeepers who gauged last year 242,626,324 gallons of distilled spirits at an expense of $1,200,000, these officers being paid at the rate of compensation ranging from $2 to $4 per day. If the regulations were so framed as to exclude small manufacturers from the benefits of the law, it is fair to presume that there would be, even then, as many manufacturers as there are distillers, viz: 1,600.

Perhaps these officers might serve these manufacturers in a more economical manner than the distillers; but even making a large allowance for this advantage, it seems impossible to supervise this business at an expense of less than $500,000.

The number of druggists in the United States was stated in my letter of August 25, 1894, to be 200,000. This statement was made upon information which has since been found to be unreliable. The latest information I have in this matter is to the effect that the number is only 60,000.

I also inclose herewith a draft of proposed regulations in this matter, drawn at your request in the early part of September, 1894.

There are five letters addressed to you herewith, bearing dates as follows: July 6, 1894; August 25, 1894; August 27, 1894; October 3, and October 5, 1894. Copies of two letters from you, dated, respectively, October 5 and 6, 1894, are also inclosed. This is believed to be all the correspondence between the two offices in this matter.

Respectfully, yours,

JOS. S. MILLER, Commissioner.

REGULATIONS FOR THE ALLOWANCE OF REBATE OF INTERNAL-REVENUE TAX ON ALCOHOL USED IN THE ARTS AND IN THE MANUFACTURE OF MEDICINAL OR OTHER LIKE COMPOUNDS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, D. C., ———, 1894.

Section 61 of the act of Congress of August 28, 1894, entitled "An act to reduce taxation, to provide revenue for the Government, and for other purposes," provides:

Any manufacturer finding it necessary to use alcohol in the arts, or in any medicinal or other like compound, may use the same under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and on satisfying the collector of internal revenue for the district wherein he resides or carries on business that he has complied with such regulations and has used such alcohol therein, and delivering up the stamps which show that a tax has been paid thereon, shall be entitled to receive from the Treasury of the United States a rebate or repayment of the tax so paid.

DEFINITIONS.

The word "manufacturer" as employed in the statute above quoted is held to mean any person who, having an established place of business, manufactures, for wholesale only, articles in which alcohol is either a necessary constituent or is necessarily used in the process of manufacturing such articles, except spirituous liquors or other alcoholic compounds, intended or used as a beverage.

Under this construction rectifiers, compounders, or other persons manufacturing any of the articles last referred to will not be regarded as manufacturers within the contemplation of the statute named.

ARTICLE 2. The word "alcohol" is held to be distilled spirits of an alcoholic strength of not less than one hundred and eighty-eight per centum of proof spirits, as defined by section 3249, of the Revised Statutes of the United States; and which have been branded and deposited in the distillery warehouse as alcohol.

ARTICLE 3. The word "arts," as above used, is held to apply only to the manufacture of articles (other than spirituous liquors) where the process of manufacture requires the use of alcohol, and where the alcohol used is either a component part of the manufactured article or is necessarily destroyed or lost in the process of such manufacture. Under the construction here given no rebate of tax will be allowed where the alcohol used, and not remaining incorporated with the manufactured article, is recoverable by distillation, filtration, or by any other process. Also where its use is not necessarily a part of the process of manufacture; as, for instance, when used for heating, drying, or other like purposes.

Nor will such rebate be allowed on alcohol used in laboratories (except as herein provided) or in any experimental work whatever.

ARTICLE 4. The words "medicinal or other like compounds" are held to be articles, preparations, or compounds prepared according to the directions of the United States or other national pharmacœpia, or according to published formulas in common use among physicians or apothecaries in the United States; also medicinal preparations prepared according to private formulas, when advertised, sold, and used solely as specifics or remedies for certain diseases or bodily ailments defined and treated in standard medical works of this country.

Under this construction no rebate of tax will be allowed on alcohol used in the manufacture of proprietary articles, wines, cordials, bitters, or other alcoholic compounds which are sold or used as a beverage or as a substitute therefor, or which, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, are intended to be or may be so sold or used.

MANUFACTURERS TO FILE NOTICE AND TO GIVE BOND.

ARTICLE 5. Where rebate is to be claimed under the foregoing provision of law on alcohol used in the manufacture of articles the manufacturer will, before obtaining the alcohol, file with the collector of Internal Revenue of the district in which the manufactory is situated a notice in duplicate in the following form:

[Form —]

[SEAL.]

(In case of a firm or company (not incorporated) the notice must be signed and sworn to by each member. In case of an incorporated company the notice will be signed and sworn to by a duly authorized officer of the company.)

ARTICLE 6. A renewal notice will be required of each manufacturer on the first day of July in each year, except where an original notice has been filed within 30 days prior to that date. Also, in case of change in the ownership of the premises described, or in case of any material change in the producing capacity of the factory, or in the construction or arrangement of any still or condenser on the premises, and at such other times as may be required by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or the collector of the district.

ARTICLE 7. The bond to be filed by the manufacturer will be in duplicate and in the following form:

[Form —.]

MANUFACTURER'S BOND.

[Alcohol to be used for manufacturing purposes.]

Know all men by these presents, that we, ———, as principal—, and ——— and ———, as sureties, are held and firmly bound unto the United States of America, in the sum of ——— dollars, for the payment whereof to the United States we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, and administrators, jointly and severally firmly by these presents.

Witness our hands and seals at ———, this ——— day of ———, 189—.

Whereas the above bounden principal— intend— to manufacture certain articles on the premises owned, or to be occupied by them, and located at ———, county of ———, State of ———, and to use in the manufacture of said article alcohol on which a rebate of the internal-revenue tax will be claimed under the provisions of an act of Congress of August 28, 1894.

Now, therefore, the condition of this obligation is such that if the said principal shall, as to all such alcohol received, or remaining on the said premises, use the same solely in the manufacture of said articles, and in the manner described in their notice filed with the collector of internal revenue for the ——— district of ———, and shall from time to time, and in the manner required by regulations issued pursuant to said act, truly account for all alcohol received, used, or remaining on said premises, and for all articles manufactured or removed from said premises; and shall likewise comply with all other requirements of said regulations, then this obligation to be void; otherwise to remain in full force and virtue. And the obligors for themselves, their heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, do further covenant and agree with the United States in case the said principal, his agents or employees, shall use or remove from the aforesaid premises, or permit to be used or removed, any alcohol otherwise than as above specified and authorized by the aforementioned act and regulations, or shall fail or neglect to do or cause to be done any of the acts or things hereinbefore specified, or required by said act and regulations, or shall claim, or seek to obtain, a rebate of tax on any alcohol not used for the purposes specified in their notice and in their application for rebate, well and truly pay or cause to be paid to the collector aforesaid double the amount of tax on spirits so used or removed or on which such rebate of tax is wrongfully or fraudulently claimed, and a penalty of $2,000 in addition thereto.

ARTICLE 8. In preparing the bond the following instructions must be particularly observed and complied with, viz:

1. The Christian names must be written in the body of the bond in full, and so signed to the bond, and the execution must be duly acknowledged by each of the signers before the collector or deputy collector, or an officer authorized to take the acknowledgment of deeds. When a bond is signed by an officer of a corporation the seal of the corporation must be affixed, and evidence of the authority of the officer to sign and to affix the seal filed with the collector and Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

2. The residence of each signer must be stated in the bond.

3. A seal of wax or wafer must be attached to each signature.

4. Each signature must be made in the presence of two witnesses, who must sign their names as such.

5. The bond must be properly dated, and signed by at least three sureties (unless signed by an incorporated security company, duly qualified and approved), who must qualify (in real estate only) in an amount of not less than double the penal sum of the bond.

6. The sufficiency of the sureties should be shown by affidavits made on form 33.

7. The penal sum of the foregoing bond must at least equal double the amount of tax on the quantity of alcohol to be stored on the manufacturer's premises at any one time, and in no case be less than $5,000.

RENEWAL BOND.

ARTICLE 9. A renewal bond will be required upon the renewal of the manufacturer's notice, as provided in article 6, and in case of death, insolvency, or removal of the sureties, and at such other times as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may direct.

STOREROOM.

ARTICLE 10. The manufacturer will, before filing the foregoing notice and bond, provide a suitable room or building on his premises, to be used solely for the storage and safekeeping of all alcohol received or recovered by redistillation on said premises. The windows in such room or building will be provided with solid shutters with secure iron fastenings; and where a room is provided in a building to be used for any purpose other than the storage of such spirits, such room must be separated from all other rooms in the building by a solid brick or plank partition, as in the case of distillery warehouses.

The storeroom so provided will be secured by a Government seal lock, and will remain in the joint custody of the manufacturer and the officer assigned to the manufactory (article 19), and must in no case be unlocked or remain open, unless in the presence of that officer or some person regularly designated to act in his absence and having the key to the Government lock.

RECEIVING TANKS.

ARTICLE 11. In order that an accurate account may be kept of the alcohol used in the manufacture of each article, the manufacturer will, before obtaining the alcohol, provide suitable tanks or other vessels for the storage of alcohol removed each day from the storeroom, as provided in article 25. Each tank or vessel to be so used must have marked thereon, in plain letters, the name of the particular article which will be manufactured from the alcohol stored therein; and in no case must the name of more than one article be marked on any one tank.

MANUFACTURER'S PREMISES TO BE INSPECTED BEFORE APPROVAL OF HIS BOND.

ARTICLE 12. Upon the receipt of the foregoing notice and bond, the collector will carefully investigate the statements contained in the notice, and as to the sufficiency and responsibility of the offered sureties.

He will also have the manufacturer's premises inspected by a deputy collector, who will see that all regulations have been strictly complied with respecting the construction and arrangement of the storage room, and that the statements contained in the manufacturer's notice as to the location of the premises and as to the character of the business to be carried on at the premises are true. The deputy will make report of his inspection in writing to the collector, who will, if satisfied therewith, and with the notice and bond, indorse his approval on each of the papers and forward the duplicate notice and bond, together with the report of the deputy, to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for review.

ARTICLE 13. The collector will, however, refuse to approve the notice and bond if in his judgment the parties filing the same intend to engage in business other than specified in their notice, or to fraudulently use any portion of the alcohol obtained by them.

In case the collector refuses to approve the notice and bond the manufacturer may appeal to the Commissioner, whose decision in the matter shall be final.

LICENSE.

ARTICLE 14. Upon the acceptance of the notice and bond by the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue, a license in the following form will be issued to the manufacturer and forwarded to him through the collector of the district:

No. —.]

LICENSE.

[Form No. —.]

[Alcohol to be used for manufacturing purposes.]

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, D. C., —, 189—.

—, manufacturer, having filed the required notice and bond, is authorized, on payment of the internal revenue tax, to withdraw from distillery warehouse, or general bonded warehouse, during the year ending June 30, 189—, — proof gallons of alcohol, to be immediately removed to the said manufacturer's premises, located at —, in the State of —, and there used solely for manufacturing purposes as specified in said notice and as authorized by the act of Congress of August 28, 1894.

Secretary (or Commissioner.)

Each license will bear a serial number, which will be used to designate the manufactory named in the license.

WITHDRAWAL OF ALCOHOL FROM BONDED WAREHOUSE.

ARTICLE 15. The alcohol to be used under the foregoing provisions of law must be shipped directly from a distillery warehouse or general bonded warehouse to the manufacturer's premises; and, on making application for such withdrawal, the license issued to the manufacturer will be submitted to the collector of the district in which the warehouse is located, who will, upon the withdrawal of the alcohol, endorse upon the license in the columns provided for that purpose the quantity so withdrawn, the date of withdrawal, and the serial number of the packages. Under this requirement no rebate of tax will be made on any alcohol used for manufacturing purposes and not withdrawn from bonded warehouse as herein provided.

ARTICLE 16. On receipt of an application for withdrawal of alcohol under the license issued, the collector will instruct the officer gauging the spirits to mark upon each package the words "For manufacturing purposes;" and the collector will, in issuing the taxpaid stamps for such spirits, and until suitable branding stamps are furnished, write across the face of such stamp the words "For manufacturing purposes, under act of August 28, 1894."

ARTICLE 17. Except as to the additional brand above prescribed, the packages containing the alcohol will be marked, branded, and stamped, as required in other cases of withdrawal, upon payment of tax.

In affixing the taxpaid stamps on such packages the gauger will, however, instead of pasting the entire stamp to the head of the package, paste only that portion to which a slip of paper has already been attached, so that the officer assigned to the manufacturer's premises may remove such stamps and attached coupons without mutilating the same. Such stamps, however, must in all other respects be fastened (tacked) to the packages, canceled, and varnished, as required by existing regulations.

ARTICLE 18. Upon the withdrawal of the alcohol from the warehouse, the collector will note such withdrawal upon the manufacturer's license, as above required, and will then forward the license to the collector in whose district the manufacturer's premises are situated, who will, after noting the withdrawal on the records of his office, deliver the license to the manufacturer.

ASSIGNMENT OF OFFICER TO MANUFACTURER'S PREMISES.

ARTICLE 19. Upon receipt of the alcohol so withdrawn, the manufacturer will at once notify the collector of the district who will assign to the manufacturer's premises such officer as may be authorized by law for that purpose. Such officer must in every case be thoroughly informed on the subject of gauging distilled spirits, and should be selected with reference to the business to be carried on at the premises to which he is assigned.

The officer so assigned must be in daily attendance at the manufactory while in operation, and in case the manufactory is to be operated at night, the collector will, on notice thereof, assign an additional officer for duty at such times.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

ARTICLE 20. The officer so assigned to duty will at once carefully gauge the alcohol received by the manufacturer, and note any discrepancy, either outage or excess, between the actual contents of each package and the marks and brands thereon. He will then have the regauged packages immediately removed to the storeroom, and will under no circumstances allow any portion of such alcohol to be removed therefrom except as herein authorized. The officer will likewise gauge and store all alcohol subsequently received on the manufacturer's premises.

The officer will also keep a daily record of all alcohol received on the premises, and the quantity delivered each day to the manufacturer, and he will inspect all articles received on the manufacturer's premises and all articles removed therefrom. He will familiarize himself with the process of manufacture carried on at the premises, so far as relates to the use of alcohol or its recovery during the manufacturing process, and he will at once report to the collector and Commissioner of Internal Revenue any violation of the regulation issued on the subject, or any matter connected with business as carried on by the manufacturer, which, in his judgment, indicates a fraudulent use of the alcohol on which rebate is claimed. (For instructions as to the methylation of alcohol in certain cases, see art. 21.)

The officer will at such times, or when so required, select samples of the manufactured articles, and forward the same to the Commissioner for examination and analysis, and he will see that all labels and outside wrappers used on the manufactured article have printed thereon the notice prescribed in article 26 of these regulations before such articles leave the manufacturer's premises. (For form of monthly report of officer, see article 29.)

METHYLATION.

ARTICLE 21. Where alcohol is to be used in the manufacture of articles other than medicinal preparations, or other like compounds, such alcohol must be first methylated by the manufacturer and in the presence of the officer before being removed from the storeroom. The methyl (wood-alcohol) must be provided by the manufacturer and must be of standard strength, and will be added to the tax-paid alcohol in the proportion of one to ten (i. e., one wine gallon of methyl to ten wine gallons of tax-paid alcohol), or in a larger proportion if required by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The methyl to be so furnished must also be deposited in the storeroom (article 10), and a sample of each lot received must be furnished to the Commissioner, and be approved by him, before being used as above provided.

DELIVERY OF ALCOHOL FROM STOREROOM.

ARTICLE 22. When the manufacturer has occasion to use the alcohol so stored, the officer will deliver the same to the manufacturer in quantities not exceeding that required for immediate use during a period of twenty-four hours.

The gauger will carefully gauge or measure the alcohol so delivered, and will see that the same is immediately placed in the tanks bearing the name of the article to be manufactured.

When the alcohol so removed is to be placed in two or more tanks the gauger will note the quantity placed in each of such tanks. He will, however, in no case deliver alcohol from the storeroom if the manufacturer has on his premises any alcohol not withdrawn from warehouse as hereinbefore provided.

ARTICLE 23. In removing alcohol from the storeroom the same must be taken from the packages in the order the packages are numbered, commencing with the lowest serial number; and no alcohol shall be removed from a package until the entire contents of the package bearing the next lowest serial number has been entirely emptied.

ARTICLE 24. As soon as the entire contents of a package have been removed the officer will carefully detach the tax-paid stamp and annexed coupons and retain the same in his possession until the manufacturer has prepared and signed his application for rebate of the tax represented by such stamps, at which time the officer will, after verifying the application by his records and appending his certificate thereto (article 33), deliver such stamps to the manufacturer.

USE OF ALCOHOL.

ARTICLE 25. The alcohol so delivered to the manufacturer, and after being deposited in the proper tanks, may be used for the purposes as specified in the manufacturer's notice, and for no other purpose. No portion of the alcohol deposited in one tank shall be used for any purpose other than in the manufacture of the article as marked on that tank; and no tank shall be marked with a name of more than one article to be manufactured.

The quantity of alcohol deposited each day in each of such tanks, and the quantity removed therefrom each day, must be carefully noted and entered on the record prescribed in article 28.

The manufacturer will also enter on said record the quantity of each article manufactured each day and the quantity of each removed for consumption or sale.

ALL PACKAGES TO BE LABELED.

ARTICLE 26. All manufactured articles containing alcohol on which a rebate of tax is to be claimed must have affixed to each bottle or package containing the same a registered label showing the quantity of alcohol contained therein. Such label will be in the following form, and must be printed on the manufacturer's label affixed to each such bottle or package, and also on the outside wrapper inclosing such bottle or package. The label to be used must be first submitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for approval and registry.

NOTICE.

The article to which this label is affixed contains _____* per cent of alcohol on which REBATE OF INTERNAL REVENUE TAX has been claimed.

Registered. No. _____. _____
Manufacturer.

*Number to be here inserted. If methylated alcohol is used, the word methylated will also be inserted.

ARTICLE 27. The label above prescribed must be at once affixed to all such articles, and a failure to so label the articles will be a violation of this regulation, and will render the manufacturer liable for the penalty conditioned in his bond. In order that the articles so manufactured and labeled may be kept separate from other like articles produced from alcohol on which no rebate can be allowed, the manufacturer will provide a separate room for the storage of such articles, and such room and the contents therein stored must at all times be accessible to the officer assigned to the premises.

RECORDS TO BE KEPT.

ARTICLE 28. Every manufacturer using alcohol as herein provided will keep a daily record showing—

1. The quantity of alcohol received on the premises (specifying serial number of package, and wine, proof, and taxable gallons).

2. If spirits are to be methylated, the quantity of methyl received and quantity used, and the quantity of spirits so methylated.

3. The quantity of alcohol removed from the storeroom, and the quantity deposited in each storage tank.

4. The quantity of alcohol removed from each such tank.

5. The quantity of each article manufactured in which alcohol was used.

6. The quantity of each of such articles removed from the premises.

The manufacturer will, on the first day of each month, forward to the collector and to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue a sworn transcript of said record.

ARTICLE 29. The officer will also keep a daily record, to be furnished for that purpose, showing the quantities of alcohol received, methylated, used, and remaining on hand, and he will, on the first day of each month, render a report in the form to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, covering the transactions during the preceding month.

SAMPLES.

ARTICLE 30. The officer will, at such times as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may direct, or at such times as he has reason to suspect that the alcohol obtained by the manufacturer is being improperly used, select one or more samples of the manufactured articles and forward the same to the Commissioner for analysis.

ARTICLE 31. If upon such analysis the articles are found to be essentially different from those described in the manufacturer's notice and the formula submitted by him, or to contain a less quantity of alcohol than shown by the label, the license granted the manufacturer will be revoked and proceedings instituted on his bond.

The license will also be revoked and suit instituted in case the manufacturer fails to comply with all the requirements of the law and the foregoing regulations; and no rebate will be allowed after the revocation of such license.

NO REBATE ON ALCOHOL LOST IN TRANSIT.

ARTICLE 32. As the rebate of tax authorized by the act of August 28, 1894, is limited to alcohol actually used for the purposes therein specified, no rebate will be allowed on alcohol lost in transit or while stored on the manufacturer's premises.

Losses resulting from free evaporation, or from other causes incident to the process employed in the manufacture of the articles specified in the manufacturer's notice, will not, however, be deducted in computing the rebate due where such loss is not deemed excessive.

CLAIMS FOR REBATE.

ARTICLE 33. All applications for rebate of tax under the above-named act must be under oath, and the quantity of alcohol on which such rebate is claimed, and the quantity of each article manufactured therefrom must be clearly stated therein.

The claim in such cases will be prepared on blank forms, to be furnished the manufacturer, and must include only so much of the alcohol as has been actually used during the preceding month, and covered by the tax-paid stamps to be furnished with such claim.

The claim in such cases must also be verified by the officer assigned to the manufacturer's premises, and when so verified will be forwarded to the collector of the district, who will, if satisfied with the proofs submitted, indorse his approval thereon, and forward the papers in the case to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. In case the collector is not fully satisfied that the claim is a valid one, he will require such further proof as he may deem necessary, and unless such proof is furnished, no rebate of tax will be allowed. Nor will such rebate be allowed when the payment of the tax on the alcohol used is not fully established by the tax-paid stamps furnished by the claimant.

Letter of Hon. Joseph S. Miller, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to Hon. John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., July 6, 1894.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.

SIR: Referring to that part of the tariff bill relating to the internal revenue as recently passed by the Senate, attention is respectfully called to section 61 of said bill, which provides for the rebate of tax paid on alcohol used "in the arts, or in any medicinal or other like compound."

I have carefully examined this section, and deem it proper to call your attention to certain objections which have occurred to me, both as regards its administrative features and as a revenue measure.

The section provides:

Any manufacturer finding it necessary to use alcohol in the arts, or in any medicinal or other like compound, may use the same under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, and on satisfying the collector of internal revenue for the district wherein he resides or carries on business that he has complied with such regulations and has used such alcohol therein, and exhibiting and delivering up the stamps which show that a tax has been paid thereon, shall be entitled to receive from the Treasury of the United States a rebate or repayment of the tax so paid.

The proposition to exempt from tax alcohol used in the arts and manufactures has heretofore received considerable attention, and during the past ten or twelve years several bills have been introduced in Congress with the view of securing this exemption from tax. Many safeguards, including the methylation of the spirits so used, have been proposed, but it appears that, after careful consideration, Congress deemed legislation on the subject inexpedient; and this office has, without exception, when called upon for an expression of its views, objected to the proposed exemption, on the ground that the privilege of using alcohol in such cases would afford dangerous opportunities for fraud, and would involve great expense in the matter of official supervision. The danger to be apprehended in such cases would, of course, be greatly increased by the further increase of tax on distilled spirits, and for this reason additional restrictions and safeguards would seem necessary. The section, however, not only affords no additional protection against the fraudulent use of alcohol, or for fraudulently obtaining a refund of the tax, but it imposes no penalty for such fraudulent use or claim, and requires no bond or other security to be given by the manufacturers to comply with such regulations as may be prescribed thereunder.

The section also contains no limitation or restriction as to the time or place or manner in which the alcohol is to be used; nor does it provide for any official supervision or inspection, or for the keeping of books or rendering accounts, such as would enable the officers to verify the claims made. The section is also, in my opinion, further defective, inasmuch as it does not define or limit the word "manufacturer," which, as now used in the section, would include rectifiers and dealers in spirits, who, as such, have been carefully excluded from the provisions of the bills heretofore offered. The words "medicinal and other like compound" are also vague and difficult of construction, and would, in my judgment, greatly increase the danger of fraud.

As stated, the section does not provide for any official inspection of the spirits on which a rebate is claimed or any supervision of the business in which the spirits are claimed to have been used. Such inspection and supervision, however, are, in my judgment, absolutely necessary to prevent fraud, and the expense attending the employment of a sufficient force for this purpose is a serious objection to the proposed measure.

This office has no very satisfactory data on which to base estimates as to the quantity of alcohol used in the arts and manufactures, or as to the number of persons using alcohol for manufacturing purposes.

A measure similar to the one now proposed was introduced in the Forty-seventh Congress (first session), and according to reports received at that time from the various collectors the quantity of alcohol so used each year was 4,269,978 gallons, while the estimated quantity which would be so used, if exempted from tax, was stated as 7,367,594 gallons.

The list of manufacturers forwarded with these reports is found to embrace manufacturing chemists, druggists, perfumers, manufacturers of flavoring extracts, manufacturers of patent medicines, photographers, hatters, varnish and paint manufacturers, tobacco and cigar manufacturers, machinists, and others.

This list, although incomplete, serves to show some of the difficulties which this office would experience in exercising ordinary surveillance, even in cases where the alcohol is intended and is used for legitimate purposes.

The foregoing statement of the quantity of alcohol which would be used for manufacturing purposes, if exempted from tax, was based on such information as the officers were able to obtain at that time. The quantity thus stated, however, is found to be some 2,000,000 gallons less than that subsequently estimated by my predecessor; and in my opinion the quantity so used each year would not be less than 9,000,000 gallons, exclusive of that used in the manufacture of bitters, cordials, and other like preparations.

At the proposed rate of tax of $1.10 per gallon, imposed by section 48 of the bill, the loss of revenue on this quantity of spirits would amount to nearly $10,000,000 yearly, or more than one-half of the estimated increase of revenue to be derived from the additional tax thus imposed.

From a revenue standpoint, and aside from the probable loss of revenue resulting from fraudulent claims, this proposed measure seems open to serious objections; and it may, I think, be fairly questioned whether the consumer of articles manufactured from free alcohol would to any extent be benefited by its enactment.

Respectfully, yours,

JOS. S. MILLER, Commissioner.

Hon. John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury.*

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., August 25, 1894.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.

SIR: Referring to your request that regulations be prepared under section 61 of the new tariff act, providing for a rebate of tax on alcohol used "in the arts, or in any medicinal or other like compound," I would respectfully ask to be advised as to the following matters before submitting such regulations for your approval. The section provides that where alcohol is so used under regulations to be prescribed, the manufacturers using the same shall be entitled to a rebate on "exhibiting and delivering up the stamps which show that the tax has been paid thereon."

Section 3322 of the Revised Statutes, in prescribing the manner in which tax-paid stamps are to be affixed to casks or packages containing distilled spirits, declares that such stamps—shall in every case be affixed to a smooth surface of the cask or other package, which surface shall not have been previously painted or covered with any substance, and so as to fasten the same securely to the cask or package, and shall be duly canceled, and shall then be immediately covered with a coating of transparent varnish, or other substance, so as to protect them from removal or damage by exposure; and such affixing, cancellation, and covering shall be done in such manner as the Commissioner of Internal Revenue may by regulation prescribe.

Section 3324 of the Revised Statutes provides that—

Every person who empties or draws off, or causes to be emptied or drawn off, any distilled spirits from a cask or package bearing any mark, brand, or stamp required by law, shall at the time of emptying such cask or package efface and obliterate said mark, stamp, or brand.

The section also provides for the forfeiture of all such casks or packages on which the marks, stamps, and brands are not so effaced and obliterated, and imposes severe penalties for the failure to efface or obliterate such marks, stamps, and brands, or for receiving or transporting, or procuring the transportation of any such empty casks or packages, or any part thereof, having thereon any of the brands, marks, or stamps so required to be effaced and obliterated.

In view of these provisions of law the question has arisen: How are the stamps, showing the payment of the tax on the alcohol used by the manufacturer, to be exhibited and delivered as required by section 61? The section seems to contemplate the delivery of the entire stamp, but the detachment of the stamp from the package, when affixed as required by section 3322, and the regulation issued thereunder, is impracticable, and would seem to necessitate the delivery of that portion of the empty casks to which the stamp is affixed. But the transportation and delivery of such portions of the cask is prohibited by section 3324 as above shown.

The provisions of sections 3322 and 3324, referred to, are relied upon more than any other sections of the internal-revenue law for protection against the fraudulent use of packages containing distilled spirits, and of the reuse of the tax-paid stamps affixed thereto. Any exemption from the provisions of these sections in favor of persons using, or pretending to use, alcohol under section 61, would greatly impair these necessary safeguards. Indeed, if the use of alcohol under section 61 extends over a large section of the country, as will undoubtedly be the case, such exemption would, in my judgment, render such safeguards practically useless, so far as the tax on alcohol is concerned.

In view of this fact, and the dangerous opportunities which the manufacturers, or other persons applying for such rebate of tax, would have for fraudulently disposing of the spirits on which such rebate is claimed, and the further fact that no appropriation appears to have been made by Congress for the payment of such rebate, I would suggest whether it would not be advisable to delay the issuing of the proposed regulations until the attention of Congress has been called to this matter, with the view of securing either a repeal of said section 61, or additional legislation on the subject.

Respectfully, yours,

JOS. S. MILLER, Commissioner.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., August 27, 1894.

HON. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury.

SIR: Upon examination, it appears that this Department, in regard to section 61 of the revenue bill now before the President, is in the same situation as it was in 1861 in regard to portions of an act approved August 5, 1861 (12 Stat., p. 292).

The act is entitled "An act to provide increased revenue from imports, to pay interest on the public debt, and for other purposes."

Section 49 of that act provided that from and after the first day of the following January there should be levied, collected, and paid upon the annual income of every person residing in the United States, whether such income was derived from any kind of property, or from any profession, trade, employment, or vocation carried on in the United States or elsewhere, or from any other source whatever, if such annual income exceeded the sum of $800, a tax of 3 per centum on the amount of such excess of such income above $800. * * *

It is also provided that this income tax should be assessed upon the annual income of persons therein named for the year next preceding the time for assessing said tax, to wit, the year next preceding the 1st of July, 1862.

Section 50 of the act provided that it should be the duty of the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to appoint one principal assessor and one principal collector in each of the States and Territories of the United States and in the District of Columbia, to assess said income tax, with authority in each of said officers to appoint so many assistants as the public service might require, to be approved by the Secretary of the Treasury. The said taxes were to be assessed and collected under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury might prescribe.

It appears that the Secretary of the Treasury did not prescribe regulations under said act, nor was any action taken thereunder, probably for the reason that it was impracticable to prescribe regulations or to adopt any line of action that would result in the enforcement of the law and the prevention of fraud.

So much of the act as levied the income tax above specified was repealed by section 89 of an act entitled "An act to provide internal revenue to support the Government and to pay interest on the public debt," approved July 1, 1862. (12 Stat., p. 432.)

From the fact that the act of 1861 provided only one collector for each State and Territory and the act of 1862 made provision for a collector for each Congressional district and one in excess for the State of New York, I am led to conclude that the enforcement of the act of 1862 was deemed impracticable by reason of the scarcity of officers. Such is certainly the situation as to section 61 of the bill now before the President.

A sufficient number of deputy collectors should be provided to enable this office to exercise daily, nay, hourly, supervision of every druggist, 200,000 in number in the United States, to say nothing of hosts of photographers, manufacturers of bitters, whose numbers would suddenly and largely increase, manufacturers of paints, varnish, white lead, vinegar, hats, shoe blacking (a new and very profitable business), mince-meat, tobacco, perfumery, furniture, carpets, etc. Besides, as section 61 contemplates the removal, intact, of the tax-paid stamps from the distiller's casks or packages, all such stamps would have to be so affixed as would make such removal convenient, thus rendering it necessary to largely increase the number of officers needed to supervise the operations of distillers, rectifiers, and dealers in distilled spirits.

Respectfully, yours,

JOS. S. MILLER, Commissioner.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury.

SIR: I have the honor to report that the preparation of regulations governing the use of alcohol in the arts and manufactures, with rebate of the internal-revenue tax as provided by section 61 of the revenue act of August 28, 1894, has been and is now receiving very serious consideration from this office, and many communications have been received from, and personal interviews had with, manufacturers who use alcohol in their establishments; and it is found, in every case without exception, all agree that no regulation can be enforced without official supervision, and that, without such supervision, the interests of manufacturers and of the Government alike will suffer through the perpetration of frauds.

As it is found to be impossible to prepare these regulations in a way that will prove satisfactory without official supervision, I have the honor to inquire whether there is any appropriation or any general provision of law authorizing the expenditure of money by this Department needed to procure such supervision.

Respectfully, yours,

JOS. S. MILLER, Commissioner.

The COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Treasury Department.

SIR: Yours of the 3d instant inquiring whether there is any appropriation or general provision of law authorizing the expenditure of money by the Treasury Department or by the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue to provide supervision of manufacturers using alcohol in the arts, etc., under section 61 of the act of August 28, 1894, is received, and in response I have the honor to state that no appropriation whatever, either special or general, has been made by Congress for the purpose mentioned, or for any other purpose connected with the execution of the section of the statute referred to.

Very respectfully yours,

J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., October 5, 1894.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D. C.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, in reply to my letter of the 3d instant, in which you state that no appropriation whatever, either special or general, has been made by Congress authorizing the expenditure of money by the Treasury Department or by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to provide supervision of manufacturers using alcohol in the arts, etc., under section 61 of the act of August 28, 1894, or for any purpose connected with the execution of the section of the statute referred to.

In reply I would suggest that, inasmuch as I have been unable, as stated in my letter of the 3d instant, after thorough consideration of the matter, and upon consultation by letter and by personal interview with a large number of the most prominent manufacturers, to prepare any set of regulations which would yield adequate protection to the Government and the honest manufacturer without official supervision, which has not been provided for by Congress, that the preparation of these regulations be delayed until Congress has opportunity to supply this omission.

Respectfully, yours,

JOS. S. MILLER, Commissioner.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, D. C., October 6, 1894.

Hon. J. S. MILLER,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

SIR: Your communication of yesterday in reference to the execution of section 61 of the act of August 28, 1894, and advising me that, for the reasons therein stated, you are unable "to prepare any set of regulations which would yield adequate protection to the Government and the honest manufacturer without official supervision, which has not been provided for by Congress," is received. I have also given much attention to the subject and have fully considered all the arguments and suggestions submitted by parties interested in the execution of the section of the statutes referred to, and have arrived at the conclusion that, until further action is taken by Congress, it is not possible to establish and enforce such regulations as are absolutely necessary for an effective and beneficial execution of the law.

You are therefore instructed to take no further action in the matter for the present.

Respectfully,

J. G. CARLISLE. Secretary.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., January 9, 1895.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Secretary of the Treasury.

SIR: In reply to your inquiry for an estimate of the expense of the administration of section 61 of the act of August 28, 1894, pursuant to the United States Senate's resolution of the 4th instant (which is herewith returned), I would say that nothing has come to my notice since November 28, 1894, the date of my last letter to you relative to this matter, which leads me to believe that the expense of official supervision was at that time overestimated.

It was stated in that letter that the expense of the necessary official supervision would not be less than $500,000 per annum. This estimate was based upon the number of officers required whose duties would be similar to those required of storekeepers and gaugers. There are about 1,600 distilleries in the United States requiring the services of some 1,200 storekeepers and gaugers, and 650 storekeepers who were paid last year $1,200,000 at a rate of compensation ranging from $2 to $4 per day.

It was estimated that if the number of manufacturers could be reduced by regulation to 1,600, a number equal to the number of distilleries, and if these officers could serve as to these manufacturers more economically than they serve as to the distilleries, the expense for this service would not be less than $500,000 per annum.

Since November 28, 1894, I have obtained further information in regard to the use of alcohol by druggists and by manufacturers of patent medicines, and feel warranted in estimating the number of druggists who are now in the habit of buying alcohol in distillers' original packages, or other packages containing each 40 gallons or more, at 3,800, and the number of patent-medicine manufacturers at 200. It is not seen from these figures how the number of the favored class as to those who use alcohol in any medicinal or other like compound could well be less than 4,000. In fact it is not clearly seen how any discrimination could be made against any druggist who makes medicinal or other like compounds in which (as happens in the business of all or nearly all druggists) alcohol is a necessary component part. It is true that druggists whose business does not warrant the purchase of the ordinary distillers' original 40-gallon package of alcohol, have heretofore usually purchased their supplies in small packages put up from distillers' packages by rectifiers and liquor dealers.

As, however, distillers' original packages may, under the internal-revenue laws, contain as small a quantity as 10 wine gallons, it would seem that most druggists who have heretofore obtained the alcohol to be used in the manufacture of tinctures and extracts from liquor dealers will buy directly from the distillers or from those who deal in distillers' original packages, containing 10 wine gallons each. How can it be said that a manufacturer is not a manufacturer because the amount of business done by him is small? There being no special statutory definition in this instance, no such discrimination could be made by the Treasury Department.

This being the case it would seem that the number of manufacturers who daily, Sundays not excepted, use alcohol in medicinal or other like compounds would be more nearly 32,000 than 1,600, involving an outlay of $10,000,000 rather than $500,000.

Nevertheless, although these small druggists are required to make up these medicinal compounds at all hours of the day and night and Sundays, their great number affords an opportunity for economical official supervision not otherwise possible. Even with this advantage, however, when the fact is also taken into account that the operations of photographers, manufacturing chemists, perfumers, manufacturers of flavoring extracts, hatters, paint and varnish manufacturers, manufacturers of tobacco and cigars, of woolen goods, of carpets, of mince meat, and of glue, would necessarily also be brought under the same surveillance when the use of alcohol in such arts and manufactures is claimed, it would seem to be improper to estimate the expense of an efficient administration at less than $1,000,000 annually.

Respectfully, yours,

JOS. S. MILLER, Commissioner.
